10,000 Persons in States Are Marooned by Blizzard

Truman Tells U.S.: Must be Strong

Congress Told Armed Forces Must Be Built, Maintained

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—President Truman today laid before Congress his "re-deal" program, calling for $4,000,000,000 of new taxes and a vast extension of government in social and economic fields.

TO CONGRESS

President Seeks More Taxation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—These, briefly, are President Truman's major recommendations to Congress today in his "State of the Union" messages, in the order in which he listed them:

INFLATION

Enlarge the government's control over bank credit and conditions its power over consumer credit, exports and transport allocations. Extend and strengthen rent control. Grant authority to (A) regulate commodity speculation, (B) allocate scarce key materials, and (C) control wages and certain prices, if necessary. Authorize a study of critical shortages—like steel—with permission for the government to construct production facilities itself if industry can't do what's needed.

TAXES

Raise $4,000,000,000 additional revenue for the government, mainly by taxing corporations, but also by boosting estate and gift taxes; give consideration to increasing taxes now in the middle and upper pay brackets.

★ ★ ★

LABOR

Repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and re-enact the old Wagner Act—but with bans against jurisdiction strikes and unjustifiable secondary boycotts and some provision for avoiding strikes in vital industries. Strengthen the labor department. Boost minimum wage to 75 cents an hour (it now is 40 cents).

★ ★ ★

BUSINESS

Strengthen anti-trust laws by "closing those loopholes that permit monopolistic mergers and consolidation."

FARM

Use price supports to keep farmers at a fair economic level. Restore government crop storage and expand both foreign and domestic farm markets. Extend rural electrification and other farm health and security programs.

RESOURCES

Push power, irrigation, flood control and navigation projects on the rivers, Pass St. Lawrence Seaway legislation. Extend soil, forest and mineral development and conservation. Continuing public power projects.

★ ★ ★

HEALTH AND SECURITY

Extend the coverage and raise the benefits of social security. Set up a system of prepaid medical insurance. Give federal financial aid to state education systems.

★ ★ ★

HOUSING

Raise present public housing goals to 1,000,000 low-rent units during the next seven years. Induce builders to cut costs and erect more low-priced housing.

★ ★ ★

CIVIL RIGHTS

Pass the same civil rights proposals requested of the 80th congress. (They included anti-lynch, and anti-poll tax legislation and a fair-employment-practice law.)

FOREIGN

Restore the full effectiveness of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act whittled down by Congress last year. "Open our doors to displaced persons without unfair discrimination."

Military armed forces "sufficient to deter aggression." Pass universal training legislation.

Delivering his 3,500-word "State of the Union" message to a joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives, the president also warned that the United States "cannot escape the burden of creating and maintaining armed forces sufficient to deter aggression."

In effect the message asked the new Democratic-controlled Congress to redeem the campaign pledges which swept Truman and his party into full national power in last November's election.

REPEAL URGED

As expected, the president urged repeal of the federal Taft-Hartley labor law which many union leaders have denounced as "slave" legislation.

He renewed his recommendation that Congress approve the St. Lawrence seaway and power project, a long-standing Canadian-American project stymied for years by opposition in the United States senate.

The president drew a laugh when he departed from his prepared text to remark that "this is about the fifth time" he has recommended approval of the St. Lawrence seaway. There was also scattered applause.

ONLY REFERENCE

His remark about armed forces strong enough to deter aggression was the only reference the speech contained to the military aid he is expected to urge for the non-Communist countries of western Europe. Details of his foreign-policy proposals will be revealed in a later message to another joint session, probably within a week.

But he gave an indication of the

Mild, Windy Weather Here

More mild weather is on the menu for Edmonton today, but citizens will have to contend with fairly strong winds Thursday.

The weatherman says temperatures tomorrow will continue high for this time of year, although slightly lower than today, but the wind will blow at 15 mph from the west.

This will later bring slightly cooler weather, which is moving towards Alberta through northern British Columbia today.

Forecast valid until midnight Thursday:

Variable cloudiness today and Thursday; winds light today; west 15 Thursday. Continuing mild. Low tonight and high tomorrow, 12 and 32.

Three Believed Killed

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 5.—(Reuters)—Three persons are believed killed after a British York aircraft crash-landed at nearby Cara Velos Bay early today. There is no immediate official confirmation of casualties, but it is believed there are 11 survivors.

22 Streamliner Trains Stranded

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—(BUP)—A relief train manned by 300 crewmen set out from Cheyenne, Wyo., today to free five Union Pacific passenger trains trapped by a blizzard which has marooned an estimated 10,000 travellers in Wyoming, Colorado and western Nebraska.

Most of the travellers were on trains, but thousands of others took refuge in small town hotels when cars and buses became stalled in mountainous drifts.

An estimated 7,700 persons were marooned on 22 streamliners in the three-state area and the Red Cross said at least two of the trains were out of fuel. One troop train, carrying 257 men, was trapped at Seneca, Neb., and army officials said it was running out of food.

The air force at Lowry Field, Denver, was alerted to drop supplies if necessary.

RELIEF PROMISED

Chinook winds from the Rockies promised relief from the savage blizzard, described as possibly the worst in western history. But forecaster W. M. Percy said the storm still would cause cold waves, fog, torrential rains with minor floods, and generally bad weather throughout the entire nation.

The tornadoes which caused 54 deaths in Arkansas, Louisiana and Kansas Monday were a direct result of the northern storm.

The Denver weather bureau said "a mild sort of Chinook"—a warm breeze from the mountains — was pushing temperatures upward in southeastern Wyoming and northeastern Colorado. Officials predicted that highways and railroads would be clear for travel in those two states by tonight.

The Red Cross midwestern headquarters at St. Louis said it received reports of 8,000 military and civilian travellers stranded in southern Wyoming, northeastern Colorado and western Nebraska.

Thousands of motorists took refuge in small towns waiting for snowplows to free their cars from giant drifts that blocked highways over hundreds of miles of territory. The only transportation west of Omaha was by air.

"The cold air swept down from Canada along the Pacific coast causing the worst cold wave in history in southern California, then swung around to the southern states and caused the tornadoes there."

The cold front caused heavy rains over Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee as it dropped temperatures in the Dixieland states. But tonight, Percy said, the cold will swing north as far as New York City.

1,000 THROW PARTY

Percy said he expected the blizzard to "blow itself out in north Dakota" within the next 24 hours. He said it would abate entirely in the hard-hit areas of south Dakota, Colorado and Wyoming by noon.

Some of the marooned travelers were not taking the storm as too much of a hardship. At Cheyenne, about 1,000 of them threw a big dance last night in the lobby of the city's leading hotel, whiskey supplies were running low in the town.

Colorado stockmen said they did not think many of their cattle died in the storm but Wyoming ranchers feared heavy losses among cattle and sheep in remote areas.

Gas Station Closing Law Is Ultra Vires

City by-law governing the fixing of closing hours of gasoline service stations and garages in Edmonton has been declared ultra vires.

The ultra vires declaration was made in a judgment handed down today by Magistrate Alfred Simpson, K.C.

He held the by-law was beyond the legislative competence of city council because it was discriminatory.

This discrimination was that the by-law did not purport to deal with gasoline filling stations uniformly as a class, and permitted four garages to remain open for business 24 hours daily except Sundays and public holidays.

Civic authorities propose to appeal the decision to the supreme court of Alberta.

The magistrate's decision stems from a summons issued George Robinson, Medico Welders garage, charging him with selling gasoline after closing hours.

S. Bruce Smith, K.C., and Bruce Whittaker, appeared for Mr. Robinson, and Allan MacDonald, assistant city solicitor, for the city.

Abbott Sees Prosperity Continuing Here in 1949

Continued prosperity for Canada during 1949 was forecast in Edmonton today by Hon. Douglas Abbott, federal minister of finance, here to address the annual meeting of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Abbott was met at Edmonton's airport today by F. G. Winspear, president, and Don MacKay, secretary of the Chamber.

There was no indication of any change in the present "high standard of employment and income in Canada," Mr. Abbott said, but warned continued prosperity for Canada depended on the maintenance of overseas markets.

These were now being bolstered by the American European Recovery Program, he said.

GREAT EXPANSION

Oil development in Edmonton indicated this city and district were "on the verge of great expansion," he said.

Hotel accommodation in Edmonton was being strained by the development of the district's resources, he was reminded, and was asked if the federal government was prepared to give assistance.

"The Dominion government is giving sympathetic consideration to Edmonton's hotel problem," Mr. Abbott commented.

He said West Edmonton's member, mines and resources minister James A. MacKinnon had been active in presenting needs of the city for increased hotel space to the cabinet.

"A minister of finance makes no announcement of tax reduction until he presents his budget," Mr. Abbott said when asked if continuing prosperity would mean that Canadians would pay less taxes.

MUM ON ELECTION

The federal finance minister would not be drawn out on the prospects for an early general election.

He said the senior government would "continue to aid Canadian housing by supporting construction for veterans and service personnel."

He felt the government was primarily responsible for housing these classes in the community.

Chamber of Commerce Against Gas Export

Reciprocity and atomic energy plus hints of new industries for Edmonton, featured discussion Tuesday afternoon before the Provincial Gas Survey Commission in the courthouse.

The board concluded the present Edmonton sitting and will reopen hearings in Calgary on Thursday morning.

The Gas Survey Commission, headed by R. J. Dinning of Calgary, is gathering facts concerning Alberta's supplies of natural gas, following proposals of two companies to export gas to U.S. Pacific coast centres and eastern provinces.

The commission received three briefs at the afternoon session.

IN OPPOSITION

Two opposed the exportation of natural gas from the province while a third urged gas be exported without restrictive governmental prohibition.

Walter S. Campbell of Edmonton, president of Wainwright Gas Co., Ltd., favored exportation.

An Edmonton Chamber of Commerce brief, presented by John Dower, asked that the question of exporting be held in abeyance for

Transit System Sets Record

An all-time record of 36,878,661 passengers were carried by the Edmonton Transit System during 1948.

However the system achieved one of its highest deficits in the history of its operation during the year.

It is estimated the deficit in 1948 will be approximately $190,000.

The 1948 passenger figures are 451,247 in excess of the 36,427,414 carried in 1947.

Previous record number of passengers carried by the system was in 1946 when 36,613,257 persons were packed into street cars and trolley buses. In 1945 the total of passengers carried was 36,400,000.

Passengers carried during December, 1948, totalled 3,513,848, the highest monthly total in the system's history.

Total of passengers carried in December, 1947, was 3,173,129.

Aid Program Will End On Schedule

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A top Marshall-Plan official said today that the general European Recovery Program "will end on schedule" in 1952 despite the plea of western Europe that it cannot stand alone on its economic feet by that time.

Richard M. Bissell, deputy assistant administrator of the Economic Co-operation Administration, made the forecast at a press conference.

He implied that longer-term United States aid may be made available to individual countries, depending on their needs but declared:

"It is still very definitely my view that the European Recovery Program will end on schedule."

Egypt Demolitions Claimed By Jews

TEL AVIV, Jan. 5.—(BUP)—An Israeli spokesman said today that Jewish forces had thrust 60 miles into Egypt, carried out extensive demolitions around El Arish, and after three days withdrew to Israeli soil.

The Jewish invasion forces temporarily captured the air field at El Arish, some 30 miles inside Egypt on the coastal road, and the Aby Awugeila communications centre, the official military spokesman said.

At both places the Jews caused considerable damage to Egyptian installations before they withdrew, he added.

B.C. Flier Killed In Israeli Plane

VANCOUVER, Jan. 5. — (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Moster of Vancouver have been informed of the death Dec. 7 of their son, 24-year-old Major Ralph Moster, during a check-out flight over the Sea of Galilee.

He was killed while learning details of the controls of a new type of seaplane acquired by Israeli forces. The plane crashed into the sea while attempting to land.

His parents said the youth left here last March for Montreal "and next thing we knew he was in Paris en route to Palestine."

Federal Gov't Can't Ban Oleo Coloring

By Dick Jackson
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—The Dominion government lacks power to ban the coloring of oleomargarine, legal authorities in the justice department have advised the agriculture department.

The federal Pure Foods and Drug Act has been interpreted as legislation designed to protect the well being and health of the public. Any effort to go beyond that broad basis and protect an industry, the dairy industry, by imposing anti-coloring regulations would be quickly upset in the courts, the legal authorities have advised.

WOULD APPEAL

Firms interested in the production and sale of margarine have already let it be known in Ottawa that an immediate test case would be launched through the courts if there was an attempt to impose a coloring ban under the Food and Drug Act.

What the dairy farmers will do in the face of this will be decided at meetings this month at Edmonton and Saskatoon. The Dairy Farmers of Canada meet in Edmonton Jan. 20 and 21, and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Saskatoon on the 26th and 27th of this month.

THREE CONSIDERATIONS

The Federation, it was learned today, would be considering these proposals:

1. Lifting of the export ban on Canadian dairy products to the United States. This would result in an increase of perhaps two and five cents a quart for milk in most urban centres.

2. Demanding a higher "floor" price for butter to the producer. It is now pegged at 58 cents and dairy farmers fear a sharp drop once oleo becomes plentiful.

3. Entering an appeal to the Privy Council, a move which might enable the dairy industry to block the manufacture and sale of margarine until a decision has been made in London.

Reds Reject Peace Offer

NANKING, Jan. 5.—(BUP)—The Chinese Communist radio tonight flatly rejected Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's New Year's Eve peace offer and boasted that the Reds are approaching final victory.

Final victory, the broadcast said, means "complete destruction of the Kuomintang reactionaries and the expulsion of the forces of American imperialist aggression from China."

It described Chiang's peace offer speech as "the blustering utterances" of China's "No. 1 war criminal." The broadcaster ridiculed Chiang's assertion that the Nationalist government still had "superior strength" over the Communists.

Officer Promoted

CALGARY, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Maj. Fred T. Jenner of Red Deer, Alta., has been promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and Commanding Officer of the 14 Armored Regiment (King's Own Calgary Regiment) succeeding Lt.-Col. C. A. Richardson, DSO, who is leaving Calgary for Vancouver Jan. 16.

Fractional Decline In Canadian Cost of Living

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—(CP)—A drop of seven-tenths of a point in the official cost of living index—the first break in 23 months—was announced today by the Bureau of Statistics.

Perhaps heralding the end of the headlong rise in prices since January, 1947, the index fell from 159.6 at Nov. 1 to 158.9 at Dec. 1, the bureau reported.

(In Edmonton today Finance Minister Abbott said the decrease was indicative that the cost of living had become stabilized.)

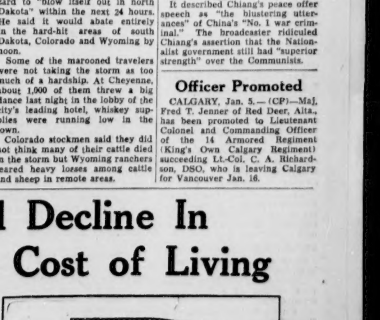
It was the food group which precipitated the break.

A sharp plunge in egg prices in November, coupled with moderate declines in meats, vegetables and fruits, dropped the food index more than two points—from 204.7 to 202.9.

Over a two-month period—from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1—the food index showed a drop of 3.4 points, indicative of the gradual decline of foods from their September peaks.

This one major crack in the price line was sufficient to counterbalance increases which took place in some of the other commodity groupings making up the main index.

The index is calculated on the basis that living costs in pre-war 1935-39 totalled 100.



As was expected, the rental index climbed from 131.0 to 131.7. This index is adjusted quarterly.

Fuel and light rose fractionally from 129.0 to 129.1 while home furnishings and services went from 166.0 to 166.2

The two remaining group indexes were unchanged, clothing at 181.5 and miscellaneous items at 124.6.

CENTRE OF WEDDING CONTROVERSY

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Storm centre of a marriage ceremony which judges say is invalid, five-year-old Marloe Gortner snapped his bubble gum yesterday as he rode his toy fire truck around his Christmas tree. He couldn't understand why all the fuss.

The boy preacher greeted newspaper men in a "conference" and said:

"God bless you. Do you want pictures of me and to know more about how I married those people? I am five years old and I have learned to love Jesus, to pray and to preach to others.

"How can those ministers condemn me and say I am too young when Jesus sent a little child in the midst of the Pharisees to teach them? Jesus laid his hand on my life—take their hats, mama.

"I am a musician, too. I play the accordion, saxophone, drums and tambourine. When I preach I wear costumes—Bible clothes, a cowboy suit. I say, sometimes, 'You know, folks, there's gonna be a big roundup one of these days.'"

Meantime two judges, who declined use of their names, said they doubt the legality of the marriage, and Ray Dowds, assistant county counsel, whose opinion was requested by the county clerk, declared:

"I am sure any court would hold a child of this age to be incompetent to be a minister in this sense."

But Navy storekeeper Raymond Miller, 23, and Alma Brown, 21, were honeymooning today and little Marloe, resplendent in a new Lord Fauntleroy suit, put the fee for his service in tieing the knot into his piggy bank.

The boy minister, who was ordained last year in the Church of the Old Time Faith, memorized the ritual. His parents, Rev. and Mrs. Vernon O. Gortner, were among the witnesses.

CP Must Produce Subsidiaries' Books

Provinces Opposing Rate Increases Win Skirmish

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Seven provinces opposing railway freight rate increases yesterday won a preliminary skirmish in advance of the main battle over a new 20-per-cent rate hoist.

They gained from the Board of Transport Commissioners an order compelling the Canadian Pacific Railway to furnish certain financial information for the case. The CPR opposed the move.

According to the provincial request, the board instructed the CPR to furnish balance sheets and profit-and-loss statements for all of its subsidiary and ancillary companies for the years 1939 and 1947.

The material was to be supplied in the next 16 days, though the railway was given the right to apply for an extension of time if it could not provide the information in that period.

On Jan. 11 the main bout over the railways' proposed new increase is to open before the board.

Evidence is scheduled to begin then on an application for an interim 15-per-cent hoist, which the railways want superseded later by a 20-per-cent increase. They received a 21-per-cent boost last March.

Seven provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—are opposing the double-barrelled application.

Export Of Gas Rapped By C Of C

at least five years and then be made the subject of review.

Mayor F. Johns of Leduc also opposed piping gas outside the province until towns like Leduc are supplied for domestic and commercial purposes.

Mr. Campbell quoted at length from American statistics, showing that natural gas reserves in many large U.S. fields have been steadily increasing with development. He contended there is absolutely no danger of a shortage of gas hitting Alberta within the foreseeable future.

Even if gas reserves do decline within the next 50 to 70 years, ample reserves could be utilized for fuel in modern gasified form, he contended.

ATOMIC ENERGY

"We may even be using atomic energy in 10 to 20 years, he observed, adding that experiment in the U.S. within the next few months may bring surprising results along atomic lines.

Questioned by Ronald Martland, counsel for Northwestern Utilities Ltd., Mr. Campbell admitted he was a "free trader" and did not believe in restrictive tariffs of any kind except during war and emergency periods, such as the present dollar shortage crisis.

HAVEN'T RIGHT

He doubted if the Alberta government possessed the right to prevent exportation of natural gas but agreed with the submission of Mr. Martland that some "proven gas fields" should be preserved for cities like Calgary and Edmonton.

Mr. Campbell challenged statements of other witnesses that industrial firms located in Alberta because of low fuel costs.

"I have never heard of a single company that came here for that reason," he said.

At present, consumption rates of 50 billion cubic feet a year, the proven and probable reserves of 3.6 trillion cubic feet will be exhausted in 70 years, the Chamber of Commerce submission stated.

LESS THAN HALF

With population increases, more domestic users and industrial expansion, danger of depleting the reserves in a fairly short time are clearly indicated, it was contended. Only about 40 per cent of Alberta's present population burn gas.

New industries are coming to Alberta including a rubber manufacturing plant, Mr. Dower said. Cheap fuel is an important factor in the decision of many eastern firms to locate in this province, he said.

CAN'T FORM POLICY

The brief closed with the following:

"The Chamber is unanimously of the opinion that factors of supply and consumption cannot at present be predicted with sufficient certainty to warrant the formulation of any policy."

Mr. Dower was questioned at length by W. E. Simpson, counsel for Pacific Northwest Gas Co., a company seeking rights to build a pipe line to Washington and Oregon.

Earlier Tuesday commission heard a brief submitted by Ald. Fred J. Mitchell on behalf of the Union of Alberta Municipalities.

The municipal union urged that no gas be exported until:

1. A thorough and exhaustive investigation has been made by competent observers as to present and potential needs in Alberta.

2. The report be submitted and considered by the legislature. Prior needs of the province now and in future shall have first consideration.

3. That gas not be exported for industrial purposes but if permitted, industries of Alberta be protected against unfair competition. Rates of exported gas should be sufficient to provide funds for research.

Truman Tells U.S.: Must Be Strong

seriousness he attaches to aggressive Russian tactics throughout the world:

"We stand at the opening of an era which can mean either great achievements or terrible catastrophe for ourselves and all mankind".

"The strength of our nation must continue to be used in the interest of all used primarily in the betterment of mankind the world over."

DOMESTIC POINTS

Other domestic proposals made by Truman:

1. Stand-by authority to impose price ceilings on certain scarce commodities.

2. Extension and strengthening of rent controls.

3 Continuation of government power to control consumer credit and a boost in power to control bank credit.

4. Authority to regulate "speculation on the commodity exchanges."

5. Continuation of export control authority and provision of "adequate machinery" for its enforcement.

6. Authority to set priorities and allocations for scarce key materials.

Truman said the economic report he intends to submit to Congress will give detail for these recommendations.

ADDED TAX REVENUE

He advocated tax legislation to add another $4,000,000,000 a year to government revenue.

This, he said, should come principally from additional corporate taxes. A portion should come from revised estate and gift taxes. Consideration also should be given to raising personal income tax rates in the middle and upper brackets.

Truman proposed that the Wagner Labor Act be re-enacted to take the place of the Taft-Hartley law, bitterly opposed by organized labor. But there should be "certain improvements," he added.

"Jurisdictional strikes and unjustifiable secondary boycotts should be prohibited. The use of economic force to decide issues arising out of the interpretation of existing contracts should be prevented, and the use of economic force to decide issues prevented. Without endangering our democratic freedoms, means should be provided for settling or preventing strikes in vital industries which affect the public interest."

TRADE PROPOSALS

Truman recommended restoration of the reciprocal Trade Agreements Act "to full effectiveness" and urged that it be extended for three years.

(The last Congress, controlled by the Republican party, set restrictions on the Trade Agreement Act by extending it only for one year and stipulating that before the President could conclude a trade agreement with any country the Federal Tariff Commission must set a limit on the amount of tariff reduction permitted.)

WE WON'T BE HERE ANYHOW

TORONTO, Jan. 5—(CP)—Sir Osbert Sitwell, who describes himself as a cheerful pessimist, doesn't think it's much use discussing the future of the novel.

The English author, poet and essayist, here to lecture on the modern novel, told an interviewer yesterday seven more years won't give the novel much time to develop. And in seven years he expects a war of annihilation, he said.

5 Bendix Deluxe Automatic Washers

25 General Electric Roasters

25 4-pc. sets Crown Jewel copper bottom aluminum cooking ware: fryer, saucepan, double boiler, Dutch oven.

*Based on latest available figures of average amount spent per family for food as estimated by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Here's the Recipe! Make it—taste it—name it!

2 cups Kitchen Craft Flour	¼ cup shortening
2 teaspoons baking powder	¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon salt	¼ cup chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento (opt.)

Sift, then measure flour; sift again with baking powder and salt into medium-sized mixing bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until size of small peas. Add milk all at once, stirring until all flour is dampened. Knead on lightly floured board about 20 times; roll to rectangular shape, about 9x14 inches. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and chopped pimiento; roll as for jelly roll, starting at widest edge. Press together well; cut in 1-inch slices and place on top of hot cooked meat and vegetable stew in casserole made either from fresh or left-over meat. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) about 15 or 20 minutes or until biscuits are brown. 6 servings. Serve with fruit salad, beverage, and cake.

SIMPLE RULES TO HELP YOU WIN

1. Send in a name for dish described in this ad. Print the suggested name for the dish along with your own name and address on entry blank or plain paper.

2. Submit as many entries as you wish. With each entry, send the words "KITCHEN CRAFT" clipped from a bag of Kitchen Craft Flour. (Or a hand-drawn copy of the Kitchen Craft label.)

3. Mail to KITCHEN CRAFT FLOUR, Box 302, Edmonton Bulletin. Contest ends December 30, 1948, closes at midnight January 30, 1949. All entries must be postmarked before midnight January 30, 1949.

4. Entries will be judged on originality and aptness—not on fancy or unusual forms of presentation—by impartial judges having no connection with Kitchen Craft Flour. Their decisions will be final. Duplicate prizes in case of ties. All entries become the property of the sponsor. No entries will be returned or acknowledged.

5. Winners will be notified by mail about one month after contest closes. List of winners available upon request. Contest subject to all Federal, State and Dominion regulations.

6. Contest open to all, except employees of Famous Flours Company, the stores where the flour is sold, their advertising agents, and their families.

●What a prize to win! What a grand and glorious feeling—no grocery bills to worry about for 5 whole years. Come what may, your family's secure.

No contest could be easier. Just send a name for the economical dish above with its good Kitchen Craft Flour biscuit topping. You c...did call it "Pinwheel Biscuit Casserole" or "One-Dish Meal." But don't use these names. You and your family will think of far better names once you taste this hearty all-in-one meal. Just follow the clear, simple rules. You have the same chance of winning as anyone else.

Guaranteed Kitchen Craft Flour, as so many good cooks can tell you, really improves your baking skill. It works wonders with any recipe. One trial will convince you.

This big contest is on now. 5 years' grocery money may be yours—or one of the other wonderful prizes. So send your entry right away—today!

WORLD CALENDAR ADVANCES TOLD

A new world calendar, its operation and effects on business and industry, were discussed Tuesday evening at the regular program of Y's Men's Club in YMCA by Dr. E. H. Gowan, assistant professor of physics at University of Alberta.

Under the new world calendar, Dr. Gowan said, the year would be divided into quarters, each with 91 days, and Jan. 1 would always be a Sunday and Christmas would fall on Monday.

Dividing the year into equal quarters, it would make it easier to compile statistics.

There would also be one extra day, to be known as a world holiday, each year to make up the 365 days. This would help to bring cooperation between nations, the speaker thought. During leap year, there would be an extra holiday, known as "leap day."

It is hoped to have the proposed calendar adopted in 1950, Dr. Gowan told the Y's Men. The Y's Men's international conference in California last year agreed to support the proposal.

The new calendar would provide for 26 working days and four or five Sundays each month.

The speaker was introduced by Dick Snider. Program also included the showing of colored slides of Y's Men's activities during the holiday season, taken by Max Dewar, club photographer.

Park Figures New Records

More than 578,000 visitors passed through the gates of national parks in Alberta in 1948 according to Hon. James A. MacKinnon federal minister of mines and resources in a statement issued today.

Banff received 354,900 of these, Jasper 70,500 and Elk Island Park 66,100, Mr. MacKinnon said. These figures were all higher than any previous annual totals. Road conditions to Waterton Park caused a slight decrease in attendance there to 86,106.

Tourist centres of Banff and Jasper are preparing to entertain tourists during the winter months, Mr. MacKinnon said.

Installation of a chair-lift on Mount Norquay at Banff and development of the ski run on Whistler Mountain in Jasper Park are encouraging the sports minded to use the parks during the winter season.

City Visitor Jailed, Fined

A Vancouver man, Theodore Captain, drew both a jail sentence and fine in city police court today on a charge of contravening the Opium and Narcotics Act by being in possession of a quantity of morphine.

He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at Fort Saskatchewan jail, plus a $200 fine. In default of payment of the fine he will serve an additional six months' imprisonment.

For retaining possession of a quantity of towels and linens, property of the CN and CP railways, Captain was sentenced to three months' imprisonment on each charge. The sentence will be concurrent to each other, but consecutive to the drug charge term.

Captain was arrested at a local hotel by Det. Corporal H. Silver, RCMP, a vial of morphine tartrate pills was found in his possession. The morphine has a $1,000 value on the underworld drug market.

Film Board Meeting Here

Three-day convention of the Alberta section, National Film Board, opened today at the legislative building, and will continue Thursday and Friday at the South Side post office building.

Use of motion pictures to promote tourist business and interest in health, co-operatives and agricultural activities is being discussed. Distribution of films in Alberta is also under consideration.

Included among the 26 speakers at the conference are representatives of the National Film Board, extension department of the University of Alberta, and department of economic affairs.

Ex-Treasury Men Are Sent to Trial

Forging and Uttering Are Among Charges

Two former provincial treasury branch officials charged with forging, uttering, false pretenses and theft were committed for trial in the Supreme Court when they appeared for preliminary hearing before Magistrate A. I. Millar Wednesday morning.

Facing the charges are Helmut A. Koch, former manager of the Wainright Treasury Branch, and Charles S. Thurber, accountant of the branch at Coronation.

Koch is facing six charges of forging, six charges of uttering forged documents and a charge of stealing $11,511 from the provincial treasury. Eight charges of forgery have been laid against Thurber in addition to seven charges of uttering, six of false pretenses and one of theft of $4,400 from the provincial treasury.

Charges laid against Koch involve the forging of six promissory notes during the period from November 1946 until December 1948, with the names of five different persons, from which a total of approximately $12,000 was obtained.

Thurber is charged with the forgery of a number of cheques, promissory notes and bank draft requisitions with various names and involving accounts in branches at Edgerton, Coronation and Wainwright. The charges involve a total of approximately $12,000.

Partial restitution has been made in both cases.

Giving evidence at the preliminary hearing into one of the charges read, Det. Sgt. J. A. Wrubleski of the RCMP stated that he had received statements from each accused admitting the forging and uttering.

Preliminary hearing into the remaining charges was waived by counsel for the accused, G. J. Bryan, KC.

BUILDING PROGRAM OFF TO GOOD START

Edmonton's 1949 construction program got away to a good start when the Edmonton Public School Board today took out a permit for $2,003,300 covering the erection of the second unit of the composite high school.

Maxwell C. Dewar, city architect, is the architect on the project and Christianson and MacDonald the contractors.

The addition includes several classrooms and the home economics and recreation units of the school.

Marriage by Child Pastor Shocks Edmonton Clergy

Little short of "blasphemy," "ridiculous" and "juvenile" were terms used by Edmonton clergymen to describe the California marriage ceremony performed by a five-year-old "evangelist."

The clergy were commenting on the report from Long Beach, Calif., where five-year-old Marjoe Gortner married a couple and then dropped the fee in his piggy bank.

Edmonton ministers wonder how the child could become ordained as a minister of the Old Faith Church.

Here's what some Edmonton clergymen had to say:

Very Rev. Dean A. M. Trendell, rector of All Saints (Anglican) Cathedral:

"Marriage is such an important thing it is little short of blasphemy to pretend to solemnize it in this stupid manner.

"I cannot understand the government of California permitting such a thing. I can quite imagine what the registrar of vital statistics in Alberta would do in such a case. Of course the church attitude would be one of viewing such a ceremony as little short of blasphemy."

Said Rev. Wesley Bainbridge, pastor of McDougall United Church: My comment could be summed up in one word: "Ridiculous." First of all, one may ask, how does a five-year-old child become ordained?

Rabbi B. Leon Hurwitz: "Ridiculous . . . the very nature of marriage ceremony requires maturity in the minister to give meaning . . . Elements of reverence, dignity and meaningfulness, which must accompany a marriage ceremony, must have been completely lacking."

Rev. T. J. Foran, St. Anthony's Cathedral: "He was certainly a little too juvenile to assume adult responsibilities . . . Other than that, I didn't get very excited about the news.

Rev. J. Gordon Troyer, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Moderator of Edmonton Presbytery: "A clergyman should be mature enough to give newlyweds guidance . . . A child could not possibly give this . . . A spectacular move by a publicity-seeking group . . . Such an organization could have little concept of a minister's role."

EDMONTON MAN HONORED BY U.S.

A former Edmonton student and a graduate of University of Alberta has been awarded a presidential certificate of merit by President Truman, it was learned here today.

He is Dr. Frank McClure, son of Mrs. F. A. McClure, 10919 124 street.

He was awarded the certificate in appreciation of important scientific contributions to the war effort.

Dr. McClure graduated with honors in chemistry from University of Alberta and later attended University of Wisconsin.

Membership Increase Is Announced by AMA

An increase in membership of 2,366, bringing the regular membership to 9,770 and the associate membership to 7,488, was announced by the Alberta Motor Association at their meeting Tuesday.

Members at the meeting formally protested installation of a projected stop light at the corner of 88 avenue and 109 street, at the south end of the High level Bridge.

It was protested that due to grades, light would, in all probability, cause congestion at the intersection.

Two hills approach the corner; from the east where 105 street hill connects with the Low Level Bridge, and from the north, leading from the High Level.

It was recommended that blinker system of warning lights be installed instead of a stop light.

The association also warned of dangers of "summer" driving on winter roads.

Many motorists, it was charged, maintain speeds which are safe enough under summer driving conditions, but dangerous on slippery winter streets.

Increased observance of pedestrian regulations was also urged.

Alberta's Great Oil Asset

Edmonton people are too close to the oil picture in this part of the province. They haven't even begun to appreciate what the oil production and the oil discoveries will mean to the Alberta treasury and indirectly to their own pocketbooks.

Last year the provincial government received more than $3,000,000 from the sale of oil rights in various parts of Alberta. This was in addition to royalties of 12½ per cent on gross production.

But this substantial profit is only a flea-bite compared to what may be realized in 1949 and in subsequent years as the rich deposits known to exist are gradually uncovered.

In the Redwater field, for instance, the largest prices in oil history have been paid for comparatively small holdings.

Recently the British-American Oil Company paid something more than $450,000 for the oil rights on a single quarter section of land.

Shortly the Imperial Oil will return to the government 14¾ sections of land in the Redwater area, reserve territory which it must relinquish under the checkerboard system.

Not one of these sections is more remote from a producing well than the piece upon which $450,000 was realized.

Thus it is conceivable and even likely that the sale of this single block of Imperial reserve can bring as much as $10,000,000 to the provincial treasury.

The annual budget of the province of Alberta is in the neighborhood of $56,000,000.

It wouldn't take many deals as promising as the impending sale of the returned Imperial reserve to build up an annual oil income for Alberta equal to or even larger than the entire budget.

What does the provincial government propose to do with this immense potential income?

Planning the wise and constructive expenditure of revenue is just as vital as the job of securing it.

A Rank Bit of Injustice

The Attlee government of Britain manages to involve itself in some strange anomalies. But none is stranger than its high-minded sense of obligation to the Arabs which is based on the rankest kind of injustice towards the Jews.

The news columns inform us that the American and British attitude towards the state of Israel has undergone radical change because the Jews invaded Egypt and the British have discovered a treaty which binds them to come to the defense of Egypt if that country is attacked.

Therefore the Attlee government has informed the United States that it might find itself in a state of war with Israel—a piece of information which has impelled the Americans to sharply warn Israel that she must stop shooting at Arabs in Palestine.

Treaties are treaties. And no one would advocate the breaking of them.

But it is typical of the Socialist conscience that it felt a frightful twinge when the Jews marched into Egypt but viewed with remarkable equanimity the military excursion of the Egyptians into Israel.

It is true that the British, under their treaty, have a responsibility in protecting Egypt from attack.

But that responsibility is no greater than the obligation to protect Israel, partly a British creation, from the greedy, unwarranted and treacherous invasion by the troops of Egypt.

No treaty is an excuse for the imposition of rank injustice.

Freak Marriages Too Prevalent

That marriage performed in California last Sunday by a five-year-old boy evangelist is one of the most disgusting bits of news to come over the wire in months.

Marriages are of two kinds, civil and sacramental.

The idea of a five-year-old child, however precocious, officiating at a sacrament is revolting and almost blasphemous.

The idea of a five-year-old child performing a civil function in a contract as vital as the marriage contract is simply ludicrous.

And even a civil marriage should be conducted with decency and seemliness compatible with the high solemnity of the occasion.

There are far too many of these freak marriages which are made as ridiculous as possible for the sake of publicity.

It seems absurd that civilized people who bemoan the increasing insecurity of the marital bond should encourage the loosening of that bond by permitting frivolous and facetious rites that make marriage no more than a gag.

The Old Wind Torn Banner

One of the brightest spots in the bright New Year is the spic and span new flag that flies over the civic block.

We are not among those who regard a flag as a sacred emblem to be guarded with the heart's blood and drenched with the heart's tears.

But surely it betrays a woeful lack of enterprise when the flag flying over the headquarters of this great city is a ragged and wretched piece of cloth that might have been a banner of honor had it been riddled in battle but is only a badge of disgrace when it got that way through wind and weather.

From a patriotic standpoint, a dirty and battered flag is shameful.

From a civic standpoint, it is a symbol of sloppiness and sloth.

The commissioners are to be commended for this timely replacement.

Tenement Tragedy Strikes Sour Note In Season's Hopes

SCOTT

In the gay and festive weeks just passed a half dozen citizens attempted to take their own lives, at least three of them successfully, and the papers recorded the passing of a dozen or more of those almost-anonymous men and women who live in grey poverty, an obituary with the terse heading, "Man (or Woman) Found Dead."

This may seem a grisly theme at the beginning of a new year and yet, in any noble or determined facing of the future, all of us should ponder the tragedy of the tenements, of the aged and lonely people who live in the cells of the sooty buildings weakly labelled "Rooms," or alone in garret or basement.

The year has ended with a barrage of high-powered, high-costing advertisements in the interests of "free enterprise," a campaign including the platitudes of a clergyman in the interests of selling gasoline. The ghosts of the thousands of destitute and friendless old people must surely haunt the advertising men who prepared those layouts.

For the truth is that a great and shadowy part of our population is living from day to day without security, driven by squalor and cold and hopelessness to take their own lives or to die alone in the dense hovels "on the other side of the tracks."

And today, when the newsprint and the air are clogged with messages of optimism and faith in the future, much of it the same old double-talk about prosperity for all, the people to remember are those who are trampled under and for whom the glad new year holds nothing but fear.

Old Men

In the orderly lives of most of us who know some measure of security, the grim story of the destitute is hard to believe. I was exposed to it involuntarily, myself, for two years as a police reporter. I must have written hundreds of those terse little "Man Found Dead" items . . . "The body of an elderly man, believed to be John Smith, was found in a rooming house at 402 Blank Avenue. Death is believed due to natural causes."

The scene and the story were always much the same. The scream of the inhalator wagon pushing too late, to pump life into the lungs of an old man who should have been getting treatment in some white, gleaming hospital. The drab, dirty little room with the peeling, faded wallpaper and the calendar tacked to the wall. The single light bulb hanging from a cord in the middle of the room, burning faintly. The grimy window facing on a black and dismal slab of the city. And, sometimes, the heavy sour smell of the gas.

I never became hardened to that terribly familiar sight. It was always impossible, for example, to imagine that the old man there, lying shapeless on the soiled bed, was once young. Old men who are poor look as if they had been that way forever, as if they were born old and weary.

And yet you could remind yourself that this old man, lying here under the thumping, synthetic breath of a pulmotor, once flung himself, long-legged and naked, into a swimming hole beneath green maples, once walked through the fields of flowers, and smelt new mown hay, worked and dreamed, opened his first pay cheque, took his girl to the dances, lived with a promise of reward.

I never stood there with the firemen, taking notes for that short paragraph, without wishing that the captains of industry, the men who have so much more than they need at the expense of those who have too little, could stand there, too, and know that there, but for the grace of God, went they.

Sharp Contrast

I think of these people in relationship with the big advertisements urging "more competition" because if there's any worthwhile path to follow in the year ahead it leads toward security for those who are incapable of fighting for themselves.

"Free enterprise" is a fine, upstanding phrase. I am an old free enterprise man myself. I put in my share of struggle to get more of the good things of life. I am a born capitalist any way you look at it. But swimming along with the current of that kind of system is futile if there is a vicious undertow of misery and unhappiness.

These huge corporations are whistling in the dark with their glib words of plenty for all and honest equality when old people do away with themselves in despair in the week of Christmas or die alone in a wretched little room to the brass music of a Salvation Army band on the corner.

In the coming year this space will continue to be devoted to voicing the sentiments—which so many fools call "idealistic" or "left wing"—that the kind of "enterprise" we are asked to follow is on trial every day.

And that so long as those short items in the newspapers continue their daily tale of tragedy the system is a sad failure.

Letters to the Editor

Laws of Philpott

Editor, Bulletin—It is beyond the reasoning of decent minds how a man of Philpott's mentality could command and get paid for newspaper space. A man of his calibre talking of the need for a law system when he does not recognize the existence of the greatest and only law system, that is the moral law, or the natural laws of God. Man made laws are enacted only to subjugate certain classes of people, to the will of others.

Let us consider his first case—"The British army left Palestine and the Jewish republic inaugurated as legalized by the UN assembly."

The UN assembly did not legalize, as Mr. hilpott and his cronies would like us to believe. The UN recommended and threw the recommendation into the lap of the Security Council, which body, if Mr. Philpott recollects, did nothing with the recommendation at Mr. Truman's own instigation.

What good are the kind of laws Mr. Philpott recommends, if they are not adhered to? The recommendations of the partition of Palestine were against the 'charter' or tenets of the UN, the four freedoms and the Atlantic Charter, or are the laws he has in mind to be especially enacted to give privilege to the so called 'God's chosen people.'

Mr. Philpott certainly is mistaken when he claims that King Abdullah's legion were the only ones that won any fighting in Palestine. Egyptian troops had swept everything in front of them to within 6 miles of Jaffa and Tel Aviv. The Iraqi troops had pushed to within 20 miles east of Tel Aviv, and the Syrian and Lebanese armies had scored major victories to the north.

Mr. Philpott, who broke the truce and disobeyed the law? Who disobeyed the law by bringing in reinforcements? Who killed Count Bernadotte, a law abiding peace emissary.

You had better read Dr. Bunch's report to the UN. There's no sense in asking if you have read it. It gives a true story of who broke all the laws in Palestine, and is promoting the destruction of God's laws everywhere, so as they can institute the laws, which you, as a tool, are advocating for their benefit.

Poverty Everywhere

Editor, Bulletin—I have never once picked up a newspaper in England, turned to the readers' letters section, and read anything written to the detriment of Canada or Canadians—but one begins to get sick and tired of the alarms so many Canadians hurl at England.

For the benefit of "Canadian Four Generations" may I point out that it is now against the law for children in England to go barefooted—his (or her) fine friend should have brought this to the notice of a police officer—parents could be heavily fined for this offence, because if they can not afford shoes for their children, shoes are supplied free of charge.

Have you never seen squalor or poverty in Canada? I have! Why don't you take a trip out here—don't keep to the main roads, though. You won't have to go far to find the filthy shacks some people have to call home and see the conditions under which their children are forced to live.

Unfortunately no country in the world is free from slums and poverty.

Bakery Industry

Editor, Bulletin.—Re recent headlines, "Bakery combines may be prosecuted, etc." This from Ottawa in the name of so-called justice.

When one considers that the present government at Ottawa is directly responsible for present day prices, and the fact that many absolute necessities of life have doubled, even trebled their price in the past few years, why choose the baking industry at this late date as an example, under the pretext of combines, when there is no more proof of combine in this industry than there is in all industry?

This is a very weak cover up for our federal government to use as a pretext to control prices and protect the public, after they have let prices hit the peak. A farce if ever there was one.

Now let us consider. Bakery products have actually risen in price barely thirty-five per cent since pre-war days.

Think hard public, how many other every-day commodities have maintained anything like sanity in price, as have bakery products?

I have until recently been directly connected with the baking industry, as an employee, also I have served as a member of the bakery committee for this industry, a voluntary body elected to serve, without pay, under the Industrial Standard Act of this province of Alberta. This committee is comprised of two bakery employees and two bakery employers, whose duties are to judiciously rule on any irregularities whatever concerning the baking industry in the Edmonton zone.

In my experience on this committee, I must say that my connection with the master bakers for employers, also with Mr. Charles Simmonds, secretary, Master Bakers Association, who also serves as secretary for the meetings of the advisory committee, in my opinion gives no genuine foundation for the government charges.

Further the Master's Bakers Association serves no purpose as a combine to the detriment of the public. In fact I will say this association to my knowledge serves the public a very useful purpose. For I am positive that this so called combine has definitely not attempted to effect a grab all policy in regard to prices, as have the majority of manufacturing industries.

When our federal government starts protecting us against the exorbitant prices of many commodities, we will realize they are not interested alone in their own personal pay checks.

I heartily endorse the recent announcement in our local press by the Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union of America, Local 276, that great strides have been made in what a few years ago was a downtrodden industry.

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

The United States ambassador to Moscow, Lt.-Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, has given us a line which should be chiselled into every doorstep of democracy—lest we forget.

Discussing Russo-American relations the other day, he said he felt things might continue in their present state indefinitely without worsening or bettering. He added:

"We can't afford to allow ourselves to be lulled into a false sense of security; neither can we afford to become hysterical. . . . We must view Russia as a long-term thing. The Russian Politburo (core of the Soviet dictatorship) also thinks in terms of years."

That puts the thing in a nutshell, not only for the United States but for all the democracies. So, let's examine the situation from that standpoint.

We are in for a long, hard fight. It might last another generation—two generations. There's no gauge by which to make an estimate.

But it could be fatal if we didn't recognize that our greatest danger lies in allowing ourselves to be lulled into a sense of security by any seeming slackening of the Moscow drive. We must beware of Red Trojan horses.

You bet the Politburo thinks in terms of years! It is in process of remolding the whole world politically and economically. It is trying to destroy religion and substitute a code of immorality which is a throwback to the days of barbarism.

The present cold war is merely an incident in this vast project. Stalin has shown in all his moves that he thinks of preparing for a long fight. He has both methodical and crafty. He has refused to be hurried in developing the world revolution.

For in the generation during which the Red revolution already has been under way it has installed itself by craft and grime in every country.

Communist espionage long has had its roots deep in North America and elsewhere. The Red lam is straining every nerve to gain control of trade unions the world over. It is spreading insidious propaganda through schools. It is overlooking no bets—but it is reconciled to the fact that it is committed to a long-range fight.

The grand strategy of the Communists is to knock us off one at a time. Therefore our cue, and the cue of all other Democratic countries, is to wage unceasing war against the inroads of Communism at home, while joining in the general defence in theatres like Western Europe.

SITTING ON THE FENCE

By Nathaniel Gubbins

Looking Backward to World of Moustaches

Young people have been advised by the government to "ask your dad" about conditions of the past, when Socialism was in its infancy and even Liberals were regarded as traitors.

Why not ask your Uncle Nat?

Your Uncle was about ten years old when the Russo-Japanese war started, and was being educated at a London County Council school.

It would have given him great pleasure to repeat the popular old fable of this period (how he drank champagne out of actresses' shoes at Romano's), but as he was far too young to be bothered by erotic sublimations of this kind, you must be content with the simple fact that he spent most of his spare time playing marbles in the gutter or being a dangerous little pest in the kitchen baking chestnuts into conkers.

He remembers that brandy balls were a farthing an ounce, glareys (coloured glass marbles) a ha'penny each, six ordinary marbles worth 2d cigarette cards on the black market, and a conker which had survived 100 battles with other conkers worth at least 3d. Gem (Tom Merry and Co.), 20,000-word story of Jack, Sam, and Pete, and the first grab in the next bag of brandy balls.

★ ★ ★

It was a world of horse trams and hansom cabs and growlers, broughams, of silly-looking men in little straw hats and big moustaches and sinister-looking men in top-hats and beards.

While champagne flowed like water at Romano's, rain water fell like rain water on the streets at the street corners.

To the ten-year-old it was a world of shiny Bath buns and one-man bands; of organ-grinders with their sad-faced little monkeys; of toffee apples and hokey-pokey men; of grubby bags of acid drops and hot potato men; of real cockneys in bell-bottomed trousers dancing the cockney folk dance outside the public-houses with their Dinahs in high-buttoned boots and ostrich feathers.

To the ten-year-old it was a world full of women wearing leg-o'-mutton sleeves and hats heavy with dead birds; of rich aunts slumming in their front parlor, smelling of eau-de-Cologne and lifting their veils to drink tea; of aunts' men with their handbells and muffin trays on their heads; of eager butchers shouting "Buy, buy, buy" outside their gas-lit shops, and of bands of hungry, haggard men marching through the streets of plenty singing:

We got no work to do-oo-oo-oo,
We got no work to do-oo-oo,
We're all starved out,
Poor laboring men,
We got no work to do.

The ten-year-old has remembered the words and music all his life.

At the council school some of the boys, including your Uncle, were well-clad, well-shod, and well-fed.

Many of the others had no overcoats in winter, wore their big brother's boots without stockings, carried their lunch of bread and lard in their pockets, and often showed little cold behinds through the holes in their breeches. There were no free school meals in 1906.

But education was free. And so was religious instruction.

Although it was not a Church school, a clergyman, his place-nez cruelly pinching his high, arched nose, would sometimes come and sniff us over (we all smelled of wet serge, string, liquorice allsorts, and bread pudding), and he was generally held responsible for our morning parades when we were lined up in two ranks, like little soldiers, to squeak out a hymn of praise in our cockney trebles:—

All good gifts around us
Are sent from Heaven above,
So thank the Lord, Ow thank the Lord,
For aw-aw-awl Is love.

In a Safe Hotel

"Do I hear you sucking something, Muriel?"

"Only boiled sweets."

"When I took you on as a companion after your parents died, Muriel, I cross-questioned you about your habits. I don't remember you admitted to sucking sweets in bed at seven o'clock in the morning."

"I don't usually do it."

"Then may I ask why you are doing it now?"

"I didn't eat much dinner."

"That's because you were sulking over your fish. Don't you think it was rather childish to sulk because I had the best portion of chicken?"

"I wasn't sulking."

"It is usually Muriel who is lucky with her portions. Muriel who gets the breast of duck, Muriel who gets the kidney in the pork chop. And Muriel who pushes her plate of fish away because someone else is lucky for once."

"I wasn't sulking. I wasn't hungry."

"Of course not. You can't be hungry at the proper time. You have to wake people at dawn with your sucking and sniffing, is that the sun coming over the mountain?"

"I suppose it must be."

"Well, that at least proves the mountain's in the proper place. I never thought you'd get that right for a start. How far away are the Russians on the other side?"

"It depends on what Russians you mean."

"Don't talk to me like the Brains Trust, Muriel. You know perfectly well I mean how far away are their atomic bombs."

"Nobody is sure if they have any."

"Well, if and when they have any? Perhaps you can tell me that?"

"I suppose the nearest bases would be in Eastern Germany."

"Two or three hours flight away?"

"I suppose so."

"I still don't think that mountain's high enough, Muriel. Aren't there higher one anywhere?"

"In Switzerland and Tibet."

One of your most irritating habits, apart from sucking sweets in bed, Muriel, is trying to be funny about serious matters. What I want to know is, are there any higher mountains in Western Scotland?"

"I don't know."

"Well perhaps you'll have the goodness to find out after breakfast."

"All right."

"In the meantime, instead of sniffling and sucking under the bedclothes, go out into the fresh air and have a good, healthy walk."

"Yes."

"And when you come back, remind the head waiter it's our turn for bacon and eggs this morning."

"All right."

Party Conversation

"Margaret's father thinks the Russians are driven insane by vodka, and believes the whole world situation would change if they switched to whisky."

"Who are the men who put yards of cotton wool into aspirin bottles?"

"Of course, he's been educated entirely by Reader's Digest, and knows everything that doesn't matter."

"If Communists are capable of praying to anybody but Holy Joe they must have prayed for a Dewey victory. An extreme right wing America would have caused enough labour trouble to give them a real chance."

"Some of these American election prophets sound about as clever as the American reporter who came over recently and said we are all cockneys."

"Margaret's father's idea of world government and world peace is world wholesale, with every man and woman having a bottle a day."

Young surgeons from overseas who come to Britain to study will benefit from a gift, made by Lord Nuffield, of $1,000,000 to the Royal College of Surgeons. It is to be used for the promotion of education and research in surgical sciences. The money is to be devoted to increasing facilities and amenities for young surgeons who visit Britain for advanced study.

Smiles

The bus was very full and an old man and a small boy were struggling to get inside.

"Pass farther down the bus!" shouted the conductress. And then, as no one took any notice, she shouted again: "Pass—farther—down please!"

"It isn't farther," the little boy said timidly, "it's grandfather."

"I don't understand why a handsome bloke like John could marry an ugly woman twenty years his senior!"

"When you want banknotes, you don't look at their dates!"

After his bath a seven-year-old boy was being dried by his mother somewhat too efficiently for his liking.

"Don't rub so hard, please," said the sufferer, moved at length to protest, "just blot me."

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Midget Hockey Goes Over Big

RED DEER, Jan. 5.—Some 40 boys of midget age are playing hockey this season in Red Deer in the recently formed Red Deer Midget Hockey League. Three teams make up the loop.

The Sea Cadets and the Army Cadets each have an entry while the Air Cadets and the Boy Scouts have teamed up to make the third team.

Games are played at the arena twice a week, on Tuesday and Friday. A twelve game schedule has been drafted which runs through until early February.

Sid Silverman is in charge of the Sea Cadet crew with Jim Hackett driving him a hand. For the Army Cadets, W. J. C. Kirby is directing affairs, assisted by Durward Holmes and George Hart. Don Ewing is representing the Air Cadets and R. F. McGregor the Boy Scouts on the zombined team with Jack Ainsworth, former intermediate and senior hockey star, as coach.

An all-star team will be selected from the league to represent this city in the provincial midget playdowns at the end of the season. Sid Silverman will coach the all-stars and D. F. (Don) Jellison, well-known business man, will look after the manager's duties.

RUSSELL ANTHONY LATONA, 13-year-old cabin boy, survived 40 hours in the shark-infested waters of the Caribbean Sea after leaping to the aid of a shipmate, who was killed by sharks. The boy's father said his son ran away from their Sacramento, Calif., home on Aug. 12 to go to sea.

Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY, JAN. 6, 1949.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Some good influences, others that tend to cause irritating circumstances. Be on guard, sensibly patient, reasonable. Smart management, sound sense can speed successful work.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Stimulating mercury rays now very helpful to all from work and for tasks requiring smart management, selling, and astute judgment throughout. Domestics and clerks have friendly rays, too.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Encouraging for business gains, improving occupational status, but at the same time warns against carelessness in making promises, signing papers, agreements. P.M. favors heart affairs.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Mildly favorable for matters connected with foods and handling metals, chemicals, and in dealing with others' properties. Domestically gains prestige.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Pleasant cooperation stressed with employers, employing, business associates and your family — should bring unexpectedly good benefits, long range gains. Be mindful of promises!

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Solid, vigorous influences. You may feel like undertaking more than you can reasonably handle in one day. Be temperate, conserve health. All worthy occupations favored.

September 24 to October 22 (Libra)—Day offers fine opportunity for inventions, research, scientific and medical professions. Have faith in right principles; be encouraged in work to aid humanity. Library still Forward!

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Some restrictions perhaps, but only enough to help you to be cautious. Overspending, promising to do more than you can, or should do are taboo. Be sensible about health needs.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Profitable day IF you use discretion in approaching customers, the "boss", anyone. Clear judgment and a sense of humor will show you more values, help build vigor.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Plan well, as well as work conscientiously, that this month's opportunities will not escape you. New trys, methods, personal advancement surely worth the effort.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Your influence similar to Sagittarius now. Compare well, descriminate carefully and when work is done there should be time for refreshing recreation, relaxed leisure.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Mixed vibrations, but more benefic ones than otherwise. Be careful about details, keeping appointments. Advantages for trades, mechanics, household matters.

YOU BORN TODAY: Very active, innately constructive. Sometimes overtrustful, easily swayed. You are too clever, too intelligent to be fooled by the wrong type — remember that. Should do well in mechanical trade, as surgeon, dentist; can succeed in any occupation to which you sincerely put your mind and training. 1949 especially opportune for personal achievement, stabilizing present holdings. Don't gamble with assets. Heed sound suggestions from wise heads. Birthdate: St. Joan of Arc; Irish patriot; Chas. Sumner, Amer. statesman; Carl Sandberg, poet.

I have been writing for the Knoxville News Sentinel for close to 20 years and have been down there and played bridge with those folks. With their shoes on or off, they play good bridge.

Mrs. Haynes sent me today's hand, played by Judson Bryan, a young student at the University of Tennessee, who was her partner. He ended up in a three no trump contract which was not unnatural as South led the six of diamonds. When North put on the ten-spot Bryan (East) let him hold the trick. North did not continue the diamond but led back the king of clubs. Bryan laid off that one, but won the second club trick with the ace. Now he cashed his four spade tricks.

At this point he did not make the mistake of leading the queen of hearts. If he had, South would have covered and this would have created an entry for North. But Bryan played a small heart to dummy's ace, then led a small heart back to his own hand and played the jack. South won this trick with the king, but there was no lead he could make that would defeat the contract.

"Suppose," asked Mrs. Haynes, "that North had continued with a diamond at trick two?" "I would have taken it," replied Bryan, "and after the four spade tricks, I would have thrown North in the lead with the ten of hearts. Now North could make no lead that would defeat my contract."

Killam Couple Wed At Camrose

KILLAM, Jan. 5.—The rectory of St. Xavier Church at Camrose was the scene of a quiet wedding recently, when Miss Eileen Mary Kueber, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kueber of Killam, became the bride of Wm. Milton Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Dunham, also of Killam.

Rev. Father J. R. Carswell officiated.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white jersey, featuring a sequin trimmed fitted bodice and full skirt.

Miss Agnes Kueber of Westlock, her sister's only attendant, was gowned in turquoise taffeta, styled with wide dropped neckline bodice and full gathered skirt.

Le Roy Dunham, attended his brother as best man. After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at Killam.

Langrud-Windover Wedding Is Held

KILLAM, Jan. 5.—St. George's Anglican Church at Killam was the scene of a pretty wedding recently when Elizabeth May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Windover of Killam became the bride of Mr. Obert Langrud of Lougheed. Rev. Brooks officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline, lillypoint sleeves and a full gathered skirt with a dainty peplum.

Miss Arlene Parker of Edmonton was her only attendant.

The groom was attended by Ted Butcher of Lougheed.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Killam Girl Wed At Coast

KILLAM, Jan. 5.—A very pretty wedding took place in the Canadian Memorial church Vancouver, B.C. recently, when Amelia Ann, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cair of Killam, became the bride of Stanley Evans, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Evans of Winnipeg. It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a pastel pink silk gaberdine suit with grey hat and pink ostrich feather. Her corsage was blue orchids.

The couple are on honeymoon to Seattle and Victoria.

They will reside in Vancouver, B.C.

Woodall Makes Best Home Showing as Flyers Win 7-3

Curriemen In Good Form To Crush Lethbridge Club

By Stan Moher
(Bulletin Sports Editor)

Earl Robertson, onetime National Hockey league great, who has been working out of late with the Flyers, may never get to play a game in goal for the Allan Cup champions.

After all, a comeback, particularly when a puck-blocker has been out of harness as many seasons as has Robertson, is no part of a cinch.

Nevertheless he may prove worth his weight in gold to Frank Currie, even if he does nothing else but continue practicing with the locals.

It's like this. As Flyers dropped a stubborn Lethbridge Maple Leaf squad by a 7-3 count at the icehouse Tuesday night Keith Woodall, current netminder of the team who has been under fire much of the season, was one of the standout performers for the winners.

Woodall Crosses Up Boo-Birds

For a certainty he turned in his top showing of the season to date before the hometown boo-birds. It may be that Woodall is just rounding into his best form (his goal-average suggests he's been in pretty good form most of the time, anyway). On the other hand it might be that the entry into the picture of the aforementioned Robertson has served to wake up the young man from the east to his peril.

He could lose his netminding job. In any event, if such is the case, it wouldn't be the first time an athlete, particularly one with his share of spunk, has regained his edge mainly because a potential replacement was "breathing down his neck."

Of course "the new" Woodall didn't knock the Leafs off all by his lonesome. The gang in front of him enjoyed a clear margin over most of the route and were full value for their win.

Paced by a Kreller-Pringle-Smitten line that racked up four goals before the finish, Flyers bounced into a 3-1 lead in the first period. They never looked like losing afterwards, although Leafs came up with their best sustained showing of the game in the middle period.

Game Along Rough And Ready Line

But for all of this Flyers increased their edge on a 4-1 in the final 20-minute stand the locals outscored the visitors by the odd goal in five to make the board read 7-3 for the record.

The overall exchanges were along rough-and-ready lines, with much boarding and charging in evidence. However no more than six penalties were dished out. Particularly prominent in the rowdy going was Jack Evans, rookie Leaf rearguard.

Here's a young fellow who seems headed for the big top, although he'll never rate an Oscar with Edmonton fans. In the meantime he's getting a fair share of "goats" as he plays his first season in the WCHL.

Elmer Kreller's goal, off a rebound, at 2:46 of the first period, sped Flyers on their way. Before the period had been played out Andy. Clovechok (Denny McManus was helpless on this one) and Fred Smitten kited the Flyer total to three.

At the other end Stan Maxwell, left uncovered in front of Woodall, pulled that worthy from his hatch to count Lethbridge's first marker.

Gordon Watt tallied the lone goal of the second period, the Flyer captain shaking the strings with a screened drive from 40 feet.

In the finale Smitten faded McManus with a blistering drive to notch his second goal. Bill Maher and Alec Pringle likewise played the Leaf watchdog for Nos. six and seven. Gib Nordin and Bill Boorman tallied for the losers.

'Bing' Merluk The Hard Luck Guy

Hard luck gent of the piece was "Bing" Merluk. The Flyer aniper turned in a fine effort, just couldn't "buy" a point.

The contest was the last Bud MacPherson will play with Flyers for a week or so. The veteran defenceman has been "recalled" by Montreal Canadiens, leaves for the east coast Wednesday to join the injury-riddled NHL aggregation under the three game CAHA-NHL lend-lease agreement.

LINEUPS

Cage Bribe Try Brings 4 Arrests

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan announced Tuesday night that four men had been arrested and charged with attempting to bribe a Brooklyn youth who is co-captain of the George Washington University basketball team.

Arrests culminated four months' investigation by New York City detectives after the player reported a bribe offer made last August, the District Attorney's office said.

The player was identified as David Shapiro, 25, a junior guard on the team.

The arrested men, whom Hogan said will be charged with violation of that section of the penal law covering bribery of participants in amateur sports and with conspiracy, were listed as:

Joseph Aronowitz, 35, a cloth cutter; Philip Klein, 34, a linotype operator, both of Brooklyn, N.Y.; Jack Levy, 40, Miami, Fla., and William Rivlin, 43, of New York.

Team officials declined to comment on the details of the reported bribe attempt as described by the player.

George Washington defeated Manhattan College, 71-63 in an upset. Manhattan, an early 7½-point favorite, became a 13-point favorite shortly before game time.

Huskies Trounce Commandos 7-3

LLOYDMINSTER, Jan. 5.—An out-manned Wainwright Commando hockey team put up a stubborn battle here Monday night before falling 7-3 to Lloydminster Huskies in an Eastern Alberta Hockey league game.

The visitors turned up with only nine players but still held Huskies even through a scoreless first period and a second session marked by four evenly divided goals. They weakened in the final, however, to allow the locals five goals while just being able to get one themselves.

Hill and Paton each tallied twice for Huskies, singletons going to Duffield, Larkins, and Shortell. Iverson topped Commandos with two goals and King picked up the other.

LINEUPS:

WAINWRIGHT—Walker, Tory, Meyer, Murray, Wilhart, Iverson, MacKay, Sheffield, King.

LLOYDMINSTER—Deaville, Mounce, Miller, Powell, Walowski, Hill, Paton, Duffield, Shortell, Savoie, Smith, Butterworth, Flaherty, Larkins.

Clubmen Trounce Canadian B's 8-2

Four players sparked EAC to an easy 8-2 triumph over Canadian B's in a City Midget Hockey league game at 119 street rink Tuesday night.

Zelenak turned a hat trick for the victors while Hefflick and Hall divided four and Kowalchuk netted once. One of Hefflick's counters came on a second-period penalty shot called when a Canadian player threw his stick at the puck. Meredith and Smith tallied for Canucks.

EAC led 3-0 at the first breather and extended their margin to 5-1 after two periods. They outscored Canadians 3-1 in the finale.

Cage School

Basketball school for girl students of city high schools resumes Thursday night at the McDougall gym. Only three practices remain before four teams are picked and a schedule is drawn up. All interested are asked to attend. Starting time is 7:00 o'clock.

Roy Conacher Passes Bentley in Point Race

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Roy Conacher, hard-driving Chicago right-winger, last week supplanted linemate Doug Bentley as pacesetter in the NHL's torrid scoring race, picking up five points to Bentley's three.

Official statistics released Tuesday show the youngest member of hockey's famed Conacher clan has 37 points, one more than Bentley. Conacher leads the league in assists with 25. He has scored 12 goals.

Jim Conacher, another Black Hawk but unrelated to Roy, lost ground to the top two but managed to hang on to third place. He has 30 points, made up of 15 goals and 15 assists.

Bill Durnan, Montreal Canadiens' four-time winner of the Vezina Trophy, still leads the netminders with a 2.24 average and four shutouts. He has allowed but 65 goals in 31 games.

Toronto's Stanley Cup champions, whose Wild Bill Ezinicki leads the penalty parade with 85 minutes, saw their penalty-total for the season soar above the 400-mark after rough-and-tumble meetings with their arch rivals, Les Habitants, and New York Rangers.

SPORTS BULLETIN

AMATEURISM CHIEF SPORTS CONFAB TOPIC

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—(CP)—The National Council of Physical Fitness will have no recommendations to place before delegates from National Sports Governing bodies when it plays host to representatives of at least 18 groups here this week, officials said Tuesday.

With a number of contentious questions, particularly amateurism, on the agenda for discussion at the Jan. 7-8 meeting, the council members will mostly sit back and listen.

"Our main function," an official said, "is to provide neutral ground on which the various parties can express their views."

Discussions probably will centre around a 10-point agenda which was announced in Toronto in November, although J. H. Ross of Calgary, president of the council, has made clear that the Conference may alter the agenda.

THE QUESTION

One matter is the question: "Should amateur sports be subsidized from public funds?" However, the council and the federal health department will make no proposal or offering.

"After the meeting is over, we may be in a position to make some statement," the official said.

On still another point, the council has taken a flat, hard-to-off stand. This is the question: "Is there need for a national co-ordinating organization for sport?"

A council resolution passed some time ago says:

"The NOPE, the fitness division, and the department of National Health and Welfare have no desire to, nor will they accept any responsibility for governing sports in Canada.

TO LEND ASSISTANCE

"Their objective is to lend every possible assistance to enable the various sports governing bodies to co-ordinate their efforts and to assist them in co-operating with each other so that the work of all may progress."

EAC Play Leafs At Arena Tonight

EAC will be on the warpath at the Arena Wednesday night when they go in search of their second straight victory over Maple Leafs, Junior Hockey league leaders. The teams clash in the first game of the regular double-header, starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Victory for the Clubbers would bring them to within two points of the pace-setters, the closest they have been to first place in more than a month. A Maple Leaf win would all but clinch first place for the Mapleos as the schedule is running out.

South Side and Canadians clash will be desperate for a victory to in the nightcap and the Canucks keep alive their slim playoff hopes.

SELKE AT IT AGAIN

Slushy Ice Brings "Old Trick" Charge

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—It was a hot old time at Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday night during the Montreal Canadiens-Toronto Leafs National Hockey league game. Even the ice was watery.

Maybe it was the heat generated by the second-period friction between Canadiens' Kenny Reardon and Toronto's Cal Gardner. But something went haywire which left the surface from the blueline to the Leafs' goal a bit wetter than other parts of the ice. The game which Leafs won 5-3, was held up about five minutes after the between-periods flooding.

"There was a generous sheet of water and it was about hopeless for us to score through it," Canadiens' general manager Frank Selke charged in Montreal Tuesday. "It's an old trick."

But you couldn't get much information from Maple Leaf or Garden officials.

Coach Happy Day said: "I'm not even going to comment. It's ridiculous. Try the engineers and they'll tell you."

George Vezina, chief engineer: "You had better try Henry Bolton (Maple Leaf Gardens box office manager)."

Bolton: "There was a little difficulty drying the ice. As far as I can make out it (Selke's charge) is a publicity stunt."

Scot Curlers Riding High in Quebec Tour

QUEBEC, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Scottish curlers playing their last day's exhibition games with Quebecers Tuesday won six of ten matches and as well watched a display of curling by Quebec school boys.

Yesterday's victories by the Scots headed their total of wins to 12 in 20 games.

Members of a team of 25 Scots, headed by Sir James Denby Roberts, in Quebec since Monday, have taken an edge over Quebecers with an accurate "draw" style in games here.

SWITCH TO KNOCKOUT?

The visitors told their Quebec hosts they are considering a switch to "knockout" once they get to western Canada.

Some Quebec curlers have advised them to stick to their present style and rely on slow, but accurate shots for position.

The knockout style, popularized in western Canada, is a much faster game. A player's shot is aimed to clear all of the opposing rink's stones from the house.

DRAW STYLE

In the draw game, stones are curled slowly with strong sweeping to help them on their way. Drive-style curlers are said to rely more on their skill in hooking a stone past an opponent's to the play-off centre circle.

Calling All Young Hockey Aspirants

Recreation Commission announced Tuesday night it will hold hockey schools in three rinks located in different parts of the city for all youngsters who wish to turn out.

Stadium rink will have most of the workouts, Monday from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Tipton rink will be utilized on Fridays from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. while the South Side rink will be used from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. the same night.

Also announced was a wrestling school to be conducted by Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick at the USO hall every Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock. All interested parties, youth or adult, are invited to attend.

Boxing lessons are also in the works with the USO the scene of activity. Monday and Friday at 6:30 o'clock are the nights.

Calgary Names Scots' Opponents

CALGARY, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Lineups of southern Alberta curling rinks scheduled to play exhibition games with the touring Scottish curling team here starting Jan. 7 were announced Tuesday by the committee of central and southern Alberta are represented.

Players selected to play include the following:

Wm. Pickering, Brooks; C. R. Sauter, Vauxhall; J. A. Bell, Medicine Hat; Frank Wall, Champion; D. L. Anderson, Lethbridge; Roy Gygie, Barons; T. P. Larsen, Macleod; A. Madill, Foremost; T. Berger, Nanton; J. W. Luker, Warner; T. Hubka, Carmangay; C. Young, Empress; and Dr. Sawyer, Brooks.

In Edmonton, Jim McCool, secretary of the Alberta Curling association, said the local team will be decided upon by local clubs and that he did not know yet what their personnel would be.

Cleveland Indians Outstanding Club

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The world champion Cleveland Indians baseball team was voted the outstanding team of 1948 in the United States in the annual poll of sports writers by the Associated Press.

Of the 98 voting, 28 named the Indians as their No. 1 choice, 27 as their second choice and 16 picked them third. That gave the tribe a total of 154 points.

MICHIGAN SECOND

Michigan's powerhouse football team, which finished No. 1 in the Associated Press' year-end poll, gained runner-up honors with 122 points. The Wolverines drew down 17 first-place votes, 27 seconds and 17 thirds.

The United States Olympic squad finished third with 86 points. The Olympic team, which won the over-all Olympic championship in Europe last August, received 24 first-place nominations, four seconds and six thirds.

Cleveland's mighty Browns, all-America Conference football champions for three consecutive years, were fourth with 67 points.

Gardner, Reardon Lose Day's Pay

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Cal Gardner and Kenny Reardon appear to be quite a chunk more out of pocket in addition to the fines slapped on them for their stick-swinging act in last Saturday night's NHL game at Toronto.

President Clarence Campbell of the NHL said Tuesday that players' contracts provide that no salaries are paid while players are under suspension.

Both Gardner and Reardon were suspended for one game by Campbell, the Montreal-at-Toronto game Jan. 19. In addition, Gardner was fined $250 and Reardon $200.

Eastwood Wins

Eastwood defeated HA Gray 7-3 in a grade nine school hockey contest Tuesday night. Grocholski and Ronaldson added one for Eastwood, Oleson and Zemau were marksmen for HA Gray.

Moher ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Editor

Sure He's Excited!

Hefty Bud MacPherson, for all that he has seen as much of the country as the next average guy, isn't one to mask his feelings behind an air of sophistication he doesn't really feel.

"Gee, I'm plenty excited," he admitted Tuesday night when queried as to his reaction to the SOS that had come his way earlier in the day from Frank Selke, bossman of Montreal Canadiens.

Then the big fellow went on to make light of his efforts in the Flyer cause as the locals hopped on Lethbridge for a 7-3 win. "Couldn't you tell by watching me play that lousy game out there tonight?" he grinned all over.

As a matter of fact he went in on an empty stomach against Poundin' Pete Slobodian's puck horde. Just about the time he would ordinarily have taken a pre-game steak apart his tummy was all cluttered up with butterflies.

"I just couldn't eat," he laughed.

Finally he headed into the shower, looking for all the world like a gent who has just copped one of the big prizes in the Irish Sweepstake.

Two things probably were uppermost in his mind. One was to pack some food into that aching void around his midriff. Then there was that early Wednesday morning date with an aircraft—one that was to be pointed east.

★ ★ ★ ★

Canadiens Need Help Badly

Frank Currie, Flyer coach, didn't find it hard to buy Frank Selke's story that Canadiens were desperately in need of help.

Big Butch Bouchard, the bee-keeper, is out with injuries. Likewise Glen Harmon and Doug Harvey, also of the blue-line brigade. In other words Canadiens have been reduced to Hal Laycoe and Ken Reardon when it comes to shock troops that are reasonably hale and hearty.

"You can't be too selfish in matters of this kind," Currie summed up. But of course, there is also the matter of an agreement that must exist between the two clubs.

Officials of the Flyers never admitted officially that such a tie-up had been effected. Henceforth there will be little point in denying it.

Presumably Canadiens have made committments to Currie and his bosses. And who knows? The agreement may return rich Flyer dividends in the future . . . say when certain members of the present cast begin to come apart at the seams.

Paramount is the fact that MacPherson is to get his chance to impress the big men at head office. Under the CAHA-NHL lend-lease arrangement the 22-year-old defenceman is eligible to play three games with the professionals before his amateur status is affected.

And according to Currie this will be it for the present, regardless of how well the big fellow shows up. But there's always next season.

★ ★ ★ ★

They Want Him Back

Nevertheless we detected a note of apprehension in a number of MacPherson's teammates as they contemplated his impending trouble shooting role with Les Canadiens.

"Sure hope he comes back," one of them put it.

The big fellow is highly regarded by the Flyers. As 'Pug' Young stated it last night: "They should give him the Gordon efficiency medal before he leaves for Montreal. He's won it already."

Certainly Young, somewhat slowed down at present by reason of a gimpy left leg, may have been overly enthusiastic in terms of his defence mate, considering that the WCHL season still has quite a piece to run. But it's an indication of how the Allan Cup kings feel about a fellow who flopped dismally as a forward to start the 1947-48 season.

MacPherson won't be going in cold when he joins the Montrealers in time to play against Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night. He trained with Canadiens last fall, will be no part of a stranger in the company of Maurice Richard, Billy Reay, Reardon et al.

And athletes—particularly the out-and-out businessmen among them—being what they are we think the welcome sign will glow mighty brightly in this instance.

Canadiens want to make those playoffs, want that extra sugar. But then so do the Flyers. Which is not the least of the reasons why Morey Rimstad and friends will eagerly await the announcement that MacPherson is on his way back again.

TOUCHDOWN AND FUMBLE all on same play is shown here as Northwestern's Art Murakowski goes over for second Wildcat touchdown, then fumbled in end zone. Score counted, though, as Murakowski was across before he dropped ball. Picture is from Rose Bowl game, where Northwestern scored last-minute 20-14 victory over California at Pasadena New Year's Day.

73-YARD GALLOP opened scoring in Rose Bowl game. Here Frank Aschenbrenner, Northwestern halfback, is slipping into the clear on his way to a long touchdown. Halfback Ed Tunnicliff, who in last quarter ran 43 yards for winning score, is getting set here to toss key block which put Aschenbrenner in clear. Latter is just crossing his own 40-yard strip.

S.S. Midgets Trim Canadians

South Side handed Canadian A's a 3-1 setback in a City Midget hockey league game at Tipton park Tuesday night as the loop swung into the new year.

The winners broke into a 1-0 first period lead, retained a one goal margin at 2-1 after 40 minutes and scored the only goal of the third period.

Popik led the victors with a brace of goals, a singleton going to Slyke. Cook picked up the lone Canuck tally.

VEECK VETOES BLACK RETURN WITH TRIBE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Don Black is through pitching for Cleveland Indians, club president Bill Veeck said Tuesday.

"If he is determined to try it again, I won't stand in his way," Veeck told a reporter.

"I'll give him his release, but I would not accept the responsibility of Don trying to pitch again."

Black, who collapsed during a game in September, is recuperating from brain surgery performed to alleviate a blood clot condition. He was unavailable for comment.

Black has said previously he had been assured of another chance to pitch for the Indians.

Court Lack Holds Badminton Back

Take one champagne cork, stick a couple of feathers in it and you're ready for badminton, providing you have a racquet, that is. This is one of many versions of how the equipment for the game of the shuttlecock was devised in India some centuries ago.

It seems that certain English Army officers, bored during the monsoon season and tiring of continual parties, came up with badminton as an outlet. They used tennis racquets in the beginning.

An excellent brand of the game was played at the Edmonton Badminton club Monday night by the Thomas Cup team of India, currently on an extended tour of Canada, the United States and Europe. The Indians lost in the first round of international play to Canada.

Captained by George Lewis, 37-year-old veteran of many badminton battles, the compact six-man team made short work of the best Edmonton had to offer, namely Alf Ingall, Ken Forsythe and Les McManus.

Masters of the drop shot, smash and placement the visitors made clever use of all three in subduing the locals.

HANDY KNACK

Lewis and his mates had the handy knack of forcing their opponents to errors whenever a situation became tight. Once having gained the upper hand they did not easily relinquish it. They also employed the fast serve. It got them a lot of points.

The invasion undoubtedly should have a lasting good efect on the game locally. There is one drawback to attracting many to the game hereabouts. The Edmonton club has four courts and is the only club open to the general public in the city. The others are largely inaccessible to the general public.

MUST FIND REMEDY

Badminton, therefore, cannot hope to become a major sport in Edmonton until something is done to remedy the court shortage. When this is done another visit by an outstanding team could do much to aid the growth of the game here.

Community Hockey Roars Into Action

Community league hockey took off (he wraps Tuesday night with 12 teams going into action.

In the Intermediate loop Cromdale, paced by Tom Worton with three goals, edged Central 5-4. Meisner and Denney were the other Cromdale scorers while Sullivan, Hamilton, Gibson and Quinlan tallied Central markers.

Bonnie Doon posted an 8-1 win over Boyle Street in another Intermediate contest. Bob Woodroffe fired four goals for the winners while Mike Dunn added a brace and Zan Matlingchok and Mike Matlingchok got singletons. Ed Weldspiel shot the lone Boyle Street counter.

In the midget division Cromdale got the nod over McCauley 5-1. Ross, Bowen, Martin, Fox and Baldwin countered for Cromdale, while Johnny Turgeon tallied for McCauley.

Ross Hoyle with a pair paced Central bantams to a 5-2 verdict over Oliver. Duncan, Collier and Irvine added a goal each for the winners. Highlands bantams edged Cromdale 3-2.

Highlands defeated Oliver 5-0 in a pee wee league game. Richards, Mandryk, Benchuk, Chambers and Laidwig were the Highland goal-getters.

Wetaskiwin Drubs Edmonton Juniors

WETASKIWIN, Jan. 5.—Wetaskiwin Juniors smothered Canadians of the Edmonton Junior Hockey league 14-4 in an exhibition game before 700 fans here Tuesday night. Wetaskiwin plays in the Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey league.

Wetaskiwin rolled to a 5-0 first period margin and ran their lead to 8-0 before Gord Dromrosky broke the ice for Edmonton. Four more local goals took the count to 12-1 in the third period before Canadians caught fire to rattle home three fast goals. They were not hot long, however, and Wetaskiwin came back to close out with two more tallies.

Don Appleton and Bob Henderson each turned the hat trick for the locals while Pat Haworth and Pin McNaughton hit for a brace. Single goals went to Elwood Shell, Wally Abbott, Fred Hucul and Marshall Severn.

Bo Dansworth, Don Haley and Al Bryant were the other Edmonton goal scorers.

Who to Obey, Hap Day Or the Magistrate?

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Coach Hap Day of Toronto Maple Leafs said Tuesday he hadn't known Ray Ceresino was facing a careless driving charge when he ordered the 19-year-old Port Arthur winger to Leafs farm club, Pittsburgh Hornets.

Ceresino was sent back to the American Hockey league club by the National Hockey league coach Monday night. Tuesday he failed to appear in court on the charge and a warrant was ordered for his arrest. Bail of $100 was forfeited.

"He's down there to play hockey," said Day. "I understand it won't be necessary for him to appear."

When J. K. Brower appeared for the absent player Tuesday, he told Magistrate J. L. Prentice that Ceresino was ordered to board the 8:00 p.m. train for Pittsburgh "or else."

"Well, we told him to be here, or else," reported the Magistrate, refusing a request that the case be heard in absentia.

Brower said in an interview last night Ceresino was expected back soon and that the warrant would be held and served upon his entry into Canada.

"Oh, my—I gotta have a talk with my coach," said Ceresino, in a telephone interview last night from Pittsburgh. He said he had understood he wouldn't have to show up in court.

Bert Robertson's Granite Quartet on Way to Nipawin

"On to Nipawin"... and a crack at winning four brand new automobiles was the battle cry of Bert Robertson and his Granite Curling club rink as they caught a rattler for the Saskatchewan town Monday night.

A flurry of swishing brooms and sliding rocks will blow the lid off the third annual Nipawin 'spiel Wednesday morning.

Members of Robertson's rink, the lone Edmonton quartet to make the trip, included Bill Holman, second; "Burr" Jones, lead; Vince Slavik, third from Viking; and Robertson, skip.

An army of curlers—almost 500 strong—have invaded the small town for one of the premier events of the western season. Entry list shows 120 rinks, including some of the best of the 'roarin' game.

Back again are winners of the two previous bonspiels, Howard Wood and Grant Watson, both of Winnipeg. Wood and his rinkmates drove off with car prizes in 1947 when Nipawin was the locale of the world's first auto bonspiel. Watson copped the honors last year.

With four former Dominion curling championship rinks competing, the Nipawin entry list this year reads like a 'who's who' of curling. Besides Wood, Billy Rose, former Dominion champion from Sedgewick, Jimmy Welsh and Leo Johnson, both of Winnipeg, will compete for the laurels.

Car prizes will be decided by a best-of-three final. Leading up to this series, the four rinks reaching the semi-finals in events No. 1, 2 and 3 will split into two divisions for round-robin play with the winner of each section clashing in the final.

Labor Plans New Financial Demands

Security Benefits And More Wages Are Being Sought

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—(CP)—A new round of financial demands is developing in Canadian labor as 1949 opens.

However, the pressure in many unions may be turned towards obtaining security benefits such as pensions rather than outright pay boosts.

At the moment, indications are that the size and scope of wage demands will vary with movements of the cost-of-living index in the next couple of months.

Today's announcement of the official index of Dec. 1 likely will have an important bearing on a meeting of top Canadian Congress of Labor officials early next week, at which the wage pattern for the year is to be considered.

A probable outgrowth of this meeting is the appointment of a wage co-ordination committee to concert CCL union demands upon employers for greater impact. These unions had the help of such a body last year in their negotiations.

If the cost-of-living index—it was unchanged at 158.6 at Nov. 1—shows signs of remaining fairly stable, some labor men think many unions will choose to consolidate their previous gains by going after "security" rather than pay increases.

Some of these groups already have indicated they are seeking both, scaling down their wage demands in order to leave room for employer contributions to pensions and the like.

However, top officers of both big labor bodies—the CCL and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada—make it clear they still feel wages have failed to keep pace with the cost of living rise up until now.

Wage increases, said Percy Bengough, TLC president, have been dissipated by having to pay twice as much for the necessities of life."

Several Canadian unions in the last year have adopted the expedient of pegging their wage contracts directly to the cost of living index with pay going up or down as the index varies.

As yet, this has not developed into a definite trend and there are no indications of large-scale adoption of the practice in the coming year.

$100,000 Fire Hits Western Ont. Village

WROXTER, Ont., Jan. 5—(CP)—Fire swept through this Western Ontario village late last night destroying an egg-grading plant, two stores and a home before it was brought under control early today by five brigades from nearby centres.

The village has a population of 250 but volunteers from surrounding municipalities swelled the firefighters ranks to 700.

Loss was expected to reach the $100,000 mark.

Two families were left homeless, but firemen and volunteers saved two other stores, a garage and the telephone office.

Cause of the fire is believed to have been a short circuit in an electric refrigeration motor.

PADLOCK CASE HAS NEW TURN; POLICE SUED

VANCOUVER, Jan. 5.—(CP)—The Fanini padlock case took a new twist yesterday—the hunted turned on the hunter.

Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore, secretary of Aladino Fanini's lawyer, filed an action in supreme court claiming unstated damages for "false arrest and malicious prosecution."

With her employer, Thomas Hurley, Mrs. Moore was arrested Dec. 22 for entering Fanini's premises after police had invoked a rusty bootlegging penalty and clamped a padlock on the door. The pair were held in custody for three hours. Charges of trespassing against them were dismissed.

Mrs. Moore names Detective-Sergeant L. M. Munn, the arresting officer, in the action.

Russians' Bluff Called In Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 5—(AP)—A Russian general was invited yesterday to inspect Japan's police force, which the Soviet Union charges "constitutes a real menace of the re-establishment of the Japanese armed forces."

William Sebald, chairman and American member of the Allied Council for Japan, extended the invitation to Lt. Gen. Kuzm Derevyanko, Russia's member of the four-power council.

Derevyanko said he could not, at the moment, answer the invitation.

25-Cent Milk Seen If Wages Go Higher

CALGARY, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Calgary milk producers yesterday predicted before the Board of Public Utility Commissioners that "if labor keeps making further (wage) demands it will have to pay 25 cents a quart for milk."

The prediction was made by Harry Tucker, Springbank, dairyman and president of the United Milk Producers' Association of Calgary. The board is hearing an application for an "unstated" increase in the price of milk delivered in Calgary. The application was brought before the board by three city milk companies.

SYNTHETIC MILK

Mr. Tucker said "synthetic milk as well as synthetic butter may have to be eaten if costs continue to rise." He emphasized he was speaking as a private shipper and not as president of the producers' association.

Earlier yesterday increases ranging from one to two cents a quart in the price of milk delivered in Calgary were recommended to the board.

T. A. Burwash, controller of United Dairies Ltd., which operates three milk companies in Calgary making application for unstated increases, said he "favored" an increase of one cent a quart for standard milk and two cents a quart for Jersey and nursery milk. Present prices are 17 cents a quart for standard and 19 cents a quart for Jersey and nursery milk.

OPPOSE APPLICATION

At the same time representatives of Union Milk Company, Crystal Dairies and Central Creameries—the three companies applying for milk price increases—opposed an application by Safeway Stores Ltd. for a "store differential price," to enable it to sell milk direct to consumers for less than wagon-delivery prices.

Record Boom For Builders

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Led by a flood of home-building contracts, the Canadian construction industry is enjoying a record-breaking, billion-dollar boom, MacLean Building Reports Ltd., reported tonight.

Figures compiled by the trade publication put the total at $954,082,000 in 1948, more than one-third of this going to the erection of residential buildings. In 1947, the report said, the total value of contracts awarded was $718,137,100.

James A. Daly, editorial director of the company, said the volume of housing construction was particularly significant when compared with previous years. The 1948 total of $373,053,900 split into $342,000,000 for apartments. In 1947, the total was $197,196,800 and in 1929, peak year of the building boom following the First World War, it was $128,901,300.

November Auto Sales Highest

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—(CP)—A lot of Canadians don't get the urge to buy a car until spring, but the Bureau of Statistics reported Monday that sales of new motor vehicles were higher in November than in any month last year.

A total of 21,784 buyers placed some $41,986,000 on the line for new automobiles, trucks or buses. In November last year, 20,690 units were sold for $40,510,000.

Official Dies

OTTAWA, Jan. 5. — (CP) — Madame Almanda Marchand, 84, founder and president of the Federation of French-Canadian Women, died yesterday.

Paris Plan Seen as Move To Avert European Crisis

LONDON, Jan. 5.—(CP)—British officials feel that by far the most important part of the Paris long-term European recovery program an, published yesterday, was its statement of action required to prevent crisis when Marshall-plan aid ends in 1952.

The national programs, as they stand, add up to an impossibility. They put Western Europe's imports from the rest of the world in 1952-53 at $12,800,000,000 against earnings of $12,000,000,000, leaving an uncovered deficit of $800,000,000.

On present policies, however, Western Europe's earnings from the rest of the world would be only $9,850,000,000, leaving an uncovered deficit of $2,000,000,000. Nearly all of this would be a dollar deficit.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO

All the planning in the 19 Marshall-aid countries aimed at no uncovered deficit in 1952-53, by which time Western Europe was supposed to have established an independent pay-as-you-go trade basis. There must be a drastic change in present policies or Western Europe will be able to afford only about three-quarters of the imports proposed in the national program.

The Paris report presents a compromise. It specifies drastic policy changes and suggests they will enable the Marshall-aid countries to afford $5 or so per cent of their scheduled imports and achieve a moderately improved standard of living by 1953.

NOT A SCARCITY

British officials thought that without drastic changes in export policies, Western Europe as a whole could not count on more than two-thirds of the planned imports from North America.

It was stated that although sterling had greatly strengthened since the convertibility crisis of 1947, Britain was not planning to make sterling a scarce currency.

TAUGHT PUPILS WRONG LESSONS

WARWICK, England, Jan. 5 —(AP)—A former Warwickshire schoolmaster yesterday was sentenced to three years' imprisonment for getting his reform school pupils to steal gasoline, poultry and apples.

Clifford Andrew, 34, was sentenced at the Quarter Sessions after pleading guilty to 12 charges. He had been physical instructor and games master for three years at Norton Training School in Kineton, near Warwick.

Heroin Seized

TORONTO, Jan. 5—(CP)—A quantity of Mexican heroin was seized, police said yesterday after they arrested Vern Kpler, 39, whom they described as a leader of an illicit drug gang.

POSIES FOR WINNING MALAMUTES

Roses Going to Dogs In This North Festival

WINNIPEG, Jan. 5—(CP)—Roses will be going to the dogs at the Northern Manitoba trappers festival opening at The Pas in two weeks time.

The festival, described by Chamber of Commerce officials as "bigger and better" than last year's inaugural event, will include such varied competitions as Indian teepee building, wood cutting and sawing races, handicraft judging and bonspiels.

Billed as top event, however, will be a 120-mile dog race from The Pas to Cranberry Portage and back, the winning team to be decorated with a wreath of roses by the carnival queen.

Festival officials say that entries—with the deadline not until midnight, Jan. 18—already are sufficient to guarantee that staccato cries of "mush" will drown out the drone of mechanized machines that have been making inroads into the northland.

Consideration also is reported given—although unofficially as yet—to a race between dog teams and a "gasoline malamute," a mechanized toboggan invented by Ralph Swallows of Cranberry Portage.

The toboggan was decribed as performing admirably on its trial run recently, but proponents of dog teams claim that over rough areas the latter would more than equal the mechanized vehicle.

First prize in the marathon dog race, scheduled for Jan. 20, second day of the festival, will be $1,000, with $200 and $200 for second and third.

Big Building Gain For Institutions

Increase Of $2,726,200 Is Reported For 1948

Institutional construction in Edmonton during 1948 totalled $3,290,007 compared with $563,807 in 1947, an increase of $2,726,200.

The number of structures erected increased from 12 in 1947 to 21 last year. Institutional buildings include churches, scools, libraries, etc.

Commercial construction amounted to $3,671,536 against $2,850,544 in 1947, an increase of $820,992.

MORE APARTMENTS

The number of commercial building permits issued in 1948 was 212 compared with 168 in 1947. Commercial buildings include all structures used for trade and commerce.

During 1948 38 permits were issued for construction of apartment blocks compared with four in 1947.

Value of the 1948 permits was $1,233,000 against $178,000 in 1947.

Total of 2,184 permits were issued for construction of dwellings in 1948 with a permit value of $13,281,908.

In 1947 there were 1,320 home building permits issued, their value being $6,367,990.

ALTERATIONS GAIN

Total of 958 permits were issued for alterations and repairs of existing buildings during 1948. Value of these permits was $4,487,945.

In 1947 there were 828 permits issued under this classification. Their value was $4,487,945.

Total of all building permits issued in 1948 was 4,079 and their value, $27,123,329.

In 1947 there were 2,805 permits issued with a value of $13,182,665.

ELECTRIC IRON

Diapers Lost In Blaze At Laundry

Fire starting from an electric iron caused damage to the office of the Diaper Laundry, 10969 96 street, Tuesday evening.

Firemen from halls 2 and 5 laid one line of hose and used two booster lines before extinguishing the blaze, confining the dammage to one corner of the office.

The blaze was discovered by a resident of an apartment block at the rear of the laundry, who phoned the alarm to the fire department.

Some laundry was damaged when an electric iron, which is believed to have started the fire, burned through an ironing board immediately behind the office.

The business is owned by James E. Jackshaw, and the owner of the building is W. G. Walford. The premises are insured.

NEAR TRAGEDY during commercial fishing operations at Hay Lake, 659 miles north of Edmonton, brought 48-year-old Hamilton Anderson here in critical condition Tuesday. Suffering fractured ribs and internal injuries, Anderson was struck by a snowmobile Monday, and flown to Edmonton by Canadian Pacific Airlines. Stricken man was admitted to Royal Alexandra Hospital.

Liberal Convention Set For Calgary Feb. 2 and 3

Provincial convention of the Alberta Liberal Party will be held Feb. 2 and 3 at the Palliser hotel in Calgary.

This was announced Tuesday by J. Harper Prowse, Alberta Liberal leader, at a meeting of the Edmonton Liberal Association.

50 FROM EDMONTON

Between 500 and 600 delegates are expected to attend. Edmonton Liberals are entitled to send 50 representatives.

Under discussion will be party resolutions dealing chiefly with federal matters and guidance for the party's two members of the legislature.

OPEN FORUM HELD

At Tuesday's meeting an open forum on private and public ownership was led by Mrs. F. C. Conroy, and by Fred G. Winspear, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Supporting the principle of free enterprise Mr. Winspear said private ownership had brought about the highest standard of living in the world for this country.

Mrs. Conroy, speaking in behalf of public ownership, named postal services as an example of public ownership efficiency and cited some examples of the system in Russia.

About 40 persons attended the meeting.

Poultry Board Chairman Named

Deputy minister of the provincial department of industries and labor, John E. Oberholtzer, has been appointed chairman of the Poultry Producers' Marketing Board.

The board is administrative body of the Alberta Poultry Marketers Limited, co-operative organization of 30,000 Alberta poultry producers.

NORDEGG BLAST HAS SEQUEL

Nordegg mine explosion of 1941 has a sequel in the latest issue of the Alberta Gazette.

The explosion took the lives of 29 miners.

Following investigation, manager's and pit boss's certificates held by James M. Stewart, Jr., of Nordegg were suspended. The certificates have now been restored according to the Gazette announcement.

Minister To Attend

Annual convention of the CIO Canadian Congress of Labor, at Calgary Friday and Saturday will be attended by Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson, provincial minister of industries and labor and by K. A. Pugh, chairman of the board of industrial relations for the same department.

Eskimo Boy Recovering Following 90-Mile Trek

By George A. Dobie

CAMBRIDGE BAY, Canadian Arctic, Jan. 5.—(BUP)—A slight amile came across the face of Mikinak, 15-year-old Eskimo boy, as he opened his eyes and looked about a hospital room at this Arctic outpost yesterday.

Mikinak had spent four days trudging through a blizzard that swept the area New Year's Eve when he became lost in the frigid wilderness.

SILENT AT FIRST

Mikinak didn't speak to visitors to his bedside. He curled up under the bed clothes, his jet black hair and brown skin contrasting with the white of the linen.

The boy appeared to wonder if it was true that he was safe and warm again. On New Year's Eve he was walking across Albert Edward Bay with an older native friend, Agay. A blizzard blew up and the two became separated.

Agay searched for Mikinak for a full day, but could not find him. He returned to Cambridge Bay and reported Mikinak's predicament.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police sent four dog teams over the frozen, snow-covered land, fighting their way through the blizzard in search of the lost boy.

WAS WITHOUT FOOD

Mikinak was without food or any other provisions. It was feared that even with his warm native clothing he would be unable to stand up against the bitter Arctic blasts.

Then Monday night the boy staggered into this outpost. He was very weak, authorities said, having walked 90 miles through the storm without food. But they added that he had not suffered any serious effects from the four-day ordeal.

Doctors, police searchers and air force officers visited Mikinak's bedside after he first opened his eyes.

"Amazing," they said when they thought of the boy's stamina.

Agay was there, too. Finally Mikinak's eyes brightened and his white teeth showed in a big smile.

Mikinak looked at Agay and said, "Ko-vee-ah-shok-punga." In English that meant Mikinak was feeling very happy.

School Heads Meet Feb. 2

Alberta school division superintendents will meet in annual conference Feb. 2, 3 and 4 at the legislative building in Edmonton.

Conference has been called by W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of schools, and both supervisory and administrative matters will be discussed.

Representatives will deal with matters of physical education in schools, school records, readers, guidance clinics and testing and certification of teachers.

Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education, and Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister, will give addresses of welcome at the conference.

Much-Travelled Cat Back Home

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Fluff, the cat who survived a nine-day trip to Edmonton locked in a storage van, came back to Toronto yesterday by air.

Fluff started her trip Dec. 20 when she fell asleep in the van. Nine days later the van was opened in the Alberta capital. A weak and haggard Fluff crawled out.

Today she returned in a specially-padded crate. Awaiting her was all the salmon and milk she could eat.

Subway on 112 Avenue Is Announced by City

Winding portions of 112 avenue in the vicinity of 82 and 86 streets will be replaced by a subway under the CNR tracks, it was announced today by A. W. Haddow, city engineer.

Construction of this subway is made necessary by the development of 112 avenue as one of the city's main thoroughfares.

Actual work on construction will not start for several years.

Mr. Haddow announced also that a mail poll is being taken of residents on Ada boulevard and Jasper avenue east to obtain reaction to a proposal that Jasper avenue between 69 and 75 streets be designated as Ada boulevard.

The change of name is proposed to eliminate confusion arising out use of both street designations on mail.

Of the 200 letters sent out by the engineer's department 62 residents have indicated no objection to the change, and 13 have returned replies against the proposal.

Deadline for the poll is Jan. 15.

BONNIE DOON RINK OPENING IS TONIGHT

The new Bonnie Doon rink will be opened officially by Charles Simmonds, president of the Federation of Community Leagues.

A skating show has been planned with some of Edmonton's best-known figure skaters participating. Following the show, the rink will be open to the public.

The rink is 90 by 120 feet in size, and is at 95 street and 92 avenue. Worth $3,000, it has been under construction for the past two and one half months.

Disease Cases Remain Steady

Communicable disease cases reported to the city health department during the week ended Jan. 1 totalled 122, the previous week the same total of cases reported.

Chickenpox cases were increased from 35 to 43; with measles showing a decrease from 71 to 69. Mump cases declined from five to two.

Two cases of rubella, five cases of scarlet fever and one of whooping cough were reported during the week ended Jan. 1. The same number of cases of these diseases were reported the previous week.

Australia must conserve its water because the main mountain range on the east coast limits the length of coastal rivers.

HIS MONKEYING NEARLY FATAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Firemen broke into a gas-filled Greenwich Village apartment last night and found four bodies on the kitchen floor.

Working quickly, the firemen revived: one monkey, two cats and a kitten.

Who turned on the gas?

Alexander Alexiew, the animals' owner, came home later and told police it must have been the nosey monkey, which was chained to the gas stove.

Woman Seen Lake Victim

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Footprints in the snow leading to the edge of Lake Ontario have convinced police that Toronto's second mysterious disappearance within a month is solved.

There were no returning footprints and police said tney believed Mrs. Muriel Kirchner, 25, was drowned. The woman's clothing was found neatly piled on the beach in the Sunnyside amusement area early yesterday.

Police said Mrs. Kirchner apparently walked to her death following a quarrel with her husband.

In December 23-year-old Sirkka Koiva vanished and an overcoat believed to belong to her was found on the bank of the Humber river.

No other trace of her was found but police said she disappeared on two previous occasions and returned later in response to her mother's appeals.

DPs Seeking To Quit Farms

Alberta Economic Affairs Minister Hooke said officials of the departments of agriculture and economic affairs Tuesday discussed some of the problems of the province's immigration scheme with a view to their bearing on future plans.

Mr. Hooke said the discussions had been more general than specifically concerned with any one point and no announcement will be made at present of any decisions which may have been taken.

One of the points reviewed was the wish of some displaced persons to leave farm jobs for employment in industry. Mr. Hooke said some immigrants have completed the time they contracted to work on farms and now have expressed the desire to find jobs in industry.

The minister said that in general the province's immigration scheme has worked smoothly and there have been more applications from displaced persons than there are positions for immigrants here.

The departments have built a reserve list of names from which immigrants are selected when there are places for them.

Local Options Are Granted

Local options governing the sale of beer in the Sundre and Valleyview hamlets have been authorized by the Alberta government.

Residents of Sundre will vote on the beer sale question on Jan. 21 and the vote will be taken at Valleyview on Jan. 11.

Anglo-Polish Trade Pact Said Near

LONDON, Jan. 5. (AP)—A five-year Anglo-Polish trade pact setting up the biggest East-West commercial deal since the war's end probably will be signed soon, a British official said today. A Board of Trade spokesman said the two countries would exchange approximately £50,000,000 ($200,000,000) worth of goods in the next five years.

China Reds Term New Chiang Move Delay Measure

SHANGHAI, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Communist New China News Agency today termed Chiang Kai-Shek's peace overtures a Nationalist "delaying action" and said the Reds would fight on "to the finish."

The broadcast was picked up in Nanking by the newspaper Sin Wan Pao. No other source reported hearing the broadcast, first mentioned by the Yenan radio of Chiang's peace feeler of a few days ago.

No Communist official or organization was quoted by the News Agency, which, presumably, made the statement on its own.

However, competent sources here and elsewhere took the broadcast to mean that both sides now may be entering into a favorite Chinese pastime—bargaining.

Sledding Accident Kills Two Children

GRAND FALLS, N.B., Jan. 5.—(CP)—A sled-coasting accident yesterday took the lives of Gilles Poitras, 5, and his sister, Etiennette, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. Emile L. Poitras. Both were killed when a car struck their sled.

Bargain Luggage Sets Available in City Shop

By Bea Thrifty

We started in September saving our pennies like mad for that great Christmas drain in the budget. Now we have to start saying equally like mad if we expect to have a summer vacation.

I just happen to know of an awfully good saving idea available at the very moment.

It has to do with the matter of luggage.

I know where to find beautiful sets of matched luggage at a discount of one-third. Now this is a bargain.

Evidently luggage lines are being discontinued in this particular shop . . . and the result . . . a bargain for us'uns.

I'm going absolutely stark, staring mad these days trying frantically to keep up with the clearance sales. This is the first year for more than a coon's age that January sales have amounted to anything worth considering.

There actually are some gems. This suggests the appearance of a lot of new lines on the spring market doesn't it?

* * *

Before I go another word further . . . I must tell you washday-weary homemakers about a new starch to appear soon on the Canadian market.

It's scoring a whale of a success with American housewives right at this moment.

* * *

It's a new type of plastic starch which, being composed of finer particles, seeps right into the material and creates a satiny smooth surface, makes ironing easier . . . and . . . you only have to use it every eight or ten washings.

* * *

What a blessing that would be . . . if there is anything I hate about washing 'n stuff . . . it's the starching of husband's great huge stack of white shirts.

Ironing those white shirts proves to be the bane of my existence.

* * *

These days every Tom, Dick and Harry who enters your house inevitably tracks in mud and snow.

This plays considerable havoc with the cleanliness of the kitchen linoleum . . . not to mention those lovely hardwood floors.

* * *

But there is a something which you can apply to your floors which acts as a protective covering as well as gives them a splendid shine.

You pay 50c for it and you can call it an iron oil if you feel so inclined. You apply as you would wax; allow time for drying and presto . . . the shiniest, easy-to-keep-clean floor you ever did see.

* * *

One thing is important. Do not apply over wax. If floors are waxed, first remove wax coating with solvent.

Try it . . . it really does wonders. That is a matter of fact, when your floors receive that professional sanding job . . . they're treated with the same material.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Girl Not Prepared For Marriage At 17

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 17 and want to get married, but my mother says I have to finish school before I marry.

She says a girl needs an education in order to make a good wife and know how to rear children, but I see no use in my going to school any more because I cannot get my mind on my books. I am always thinking about Johnny.

Anyway, I think that when a girl sets her head on marrying she will get married, no matter what anyone tells her.

Please give me a reasonable answer.

ANXIOUS GIRL

Answer: I fully agree with you that when a bobby-soxer "sets her head" on getting married instead of getting an education, it is a waste of money to send her to school.

She has just one idea in her poor little immature mind, and that is marriage.

She is blind to consequences and deaf to warnings.

And the wrecks of child-marriages that she sees all about her do not prevent her from committing the folly of marrying too young, which has ruined the lives of so many other youngsters.

That's you, daughter. You realize that your girl chums are not ready for marriage. Why, Sally thinks she is in love with every new boy who crosses her path.

Mamie swaps steadies as often as she does her make of lipstick. Betty is off again and on again with the Boy Friend.

Mary doesn't know the first thing about cooking, and Agnes would have to go naked unless Mama made her clothes.

OF COURSE YOU'RE "DIFFERENT"!

But you are sure you are "different." Other 16 and 17-year-olders may still be mere children, incapable of the grand passion.

But you are certain that you are a mature woman ready to marry and settle down, sure that your love for Johnny will never change, and that you are perfectly qualified to handle all the problems of married life.

And so, daughter, you and your little sisters get married before you have cut your wisdom teeth on life, before you have had any playtime, before you have had any of the fun and thrills and romance of girlhood, which are a precious memory to every woman.

And it is these too early marriages that give us the querulous, dissatisfied, bored wives who keep the divorce courts going.

So my earnest advice to you is to wait until you are grown-up and know what you want in a husband before you tie up with any man for keeps.

WHY GROW OLD

Eight Week Scheme For Better Figures

By Josephine Lowman

Only those who have stuck to a daily routine of self-improvement for a reasonable length of time know what a great difference it can make in appearance, as well as in feeling.

If you are burdened with too many pounds, and I should tell you that you can lose 20 pounds in eight weeks' time, what would you do?

I DO tell you that. Most women can stick to a diet or a plan of exercise for eight weeks' time, if they know what results they have a right to expect, and, when.

This week "Why Grow Old?" is running its yearly self-improvement Marathon. The letters are pouring in! Those of you who do your exercises and count your calories faithfully can expect to lose at the rate of two and a half pounds a week, and inches and inches!

Within two weeks time you will begin to notice a difference in your measurements. Your dresses will begin to feel loose. Many women in my classes have lost from two to three inches in the waist or hips in four weeks. The protruding abdomen simply fades, when exercise is applied.

Why not join the fun while so many other women all over the country are doing the same thing? Why not dig those lovely curves out from under layers of fat?

Why not again experience that sleek young feeling through the torso? Why be longer burdened with overweight or poorly distributed poundage?

It is always a good idea to check up with your doctor before beginning exercise if you are unaccustomed to it. This is especially true if you are past early youth.

I have many letters from women in their sixties, and later, who have taken inches from their figure measurements.

Hurry up! Get your letter into the mail. The Marathon starts this week.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon leaflet. It will start you on your eight weeks' campaign for youth and beauty. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Canadian Daughters Give To Cancer Fund

Cancer fund donation of $30 was voted at the recent meeting of the Canadian Daughters' League, No. 37, held in the IOOF hall.

At the next meeting a shower will be held, and members are requested to bring a gift suitable for an invalid boy.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Wise Parents Regard Child as Individual

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There is an enormous temptation in any family where there are two children of approximately the same age, to treat the two as if they were twins. This is especially apt to happen when the children are of the same sex and the only children of the family.

Then the one bedroom is designed for them; the clothes are the same, the bringing up is simplified for the parent by dealing with them as if they were the same age.

This is a grave mistake from the standpoint of both children. The older one suffers most grievously because he is constantly being classified as a younger child in privileges, play and companionship. There is little incentive for him to act his age, for he still has to go to bed with the smaller child and all their amusements are geared to the enjoyment of the younger.

As for this child he, too, is at a disadvantage. He wants to equal or surpass the older brother because he is in continuous competition with him. He literally pulls himself up by his bootstraps in order to accomplish this, to the chagrin of the older child and to his own detriment in terms of tensions, jealousy and senseless rivalry.

The older child should always enjoy a superior position because of his age. He should go places and act in ways denied to the younger child who is counselled to look forward to the time when he too can have the same privileges.

They should have different bedtimes so that each may enjoy play times and preferably different playat his own level of interest.

The older child, because of his greater capacities should carry a larger share of the home work. Thus he becomes aware, as does the younger, that more privileges bring greater responsibilities as natural compensation.

It may be nice for a family to bracket the two children as one, but it is undesirable from the standpoint of individuality.

Our leaflet No. 33 "Desirable Sweets for Children," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Dortia Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—The star system, solid pillar of the movie industry, is undergoing a mild revolution. The studio star stables are shrinking. More and more stars are signing "one-a-year" deals—to do one picture yearly for a studio and scrounge around for other deals the rest of the time.

This is a considerable change from the old system. Studios used to employ a long list of stars and featured players. Now the companies have few if any featured players, preferring to pick them out of the free-lance pool. And the star lists have been hewn down, with a large number of players on non-exclusive deals.

TOUGH ON ACTORS

The new system is tough on actors who have trouble finding jobs. But it appears to be favorable to the studios, the stars-in-demand and Mr. movie fan.

A. The studios can keep down overhead by having fewer stars on the year-around payroll. Except for flash sensations (examples: Richard Widmark, Jane Allyson), most stars are suitable for only one picture a year. There are just so many good stories to go around each year, and many of the top stars are difficult to cast (examples: Katherine Hepburn, Danny Kaye.)

B. Stars-in-demand often prefer the freedom of one-a-year deals. They can arrange their private lives without consulting the studio every hour. And they can make their own outside deals—particularly lush self-producing set ups—without cutting in the home studio on the take.

ONE A YEAR

Some of the richer and lazier stars prefer to make one movie a year, anyway.

C. Mr. Movie Fan may well profit by seeing fresher casts. With talent being freer to move, he won't have to see the same casts in picture after picture. I'm not saying the pictures will be any better, but at least he won't be served the same stereotyped faces.

RESIDING IN EDMONTON are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pasenko, who were married recently in St. Josephat's Church. Shirley Marilyn Miller Weds George R. Knaut

CAMROSE, Jan. 5.—Roses, calla lilies and fern formed a pretty background for the wedding of Shirley Marilyn Miller and George Rodney Knaut, which took place recently in St. Andrew's Anglican Church.

The bride is the only daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. F. A. Miller and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Knaut.

Rev. C. F. W. Goddard performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was given by her father, who wore the scarlet dress uniform of the RCMP.

Train-length period gown of parchment faille was chosen by the bride. The fitted torso bodice featured a net yoke and front panel of French lace embroidered in pearls, and lily point sleeves. Long veil of illusion net fell softly from a Schiaparelli pearl tiara, and the groom's gift of a single strand of pearls was her only jewelry accent. Bridal bouquet of deep roses completed her ensemble.

Attending the bride were Miss Lea Snyder, of Wainwright, who was maid of honor, and Miss Margery Knaut, sister of the bridegroom, who was bridesmaid. Orchid and amber nylon silk were chosen for their identical frocks, which were fashioned on period lines. The full skirts were gathered into backruffled panels, giving a bustle effect.

Matching lace mittens, and colonial bouquets and headdresses of contrasting baby mums and roses completed their costumes.

Bridegroom was attended by Paddy Duggan, of Edmonton, and Allen Burrows. Tom Williams and John Keats ushered the guests to pews marked with cedar and holly tied with white satin ribbons.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Ethel Freeman, and during the signing of the register J. W. E. Markle sang "O Perfect Love."

Masonic hall was bright with bouquets of mums and roses for the reception following the ceremony. The mother of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom assisted in receiving the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller chose a dinner gown of turquoise jersey, with cocktail hat of feathers in blending shades, beige lace gloves and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Knaut was gowned in raspberry crepe trimmed with gold braid and sequins, with matching feather hat. Her accessories were black and she wore yellow roses in corsage.

Bride's table was laid with a white cut work lace cloth, and was centred with a three tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle. Red roses and white tapers in silver holders completed the table appointments.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. H. P. Stocks, of Wetaskiwin, and Mrs. P. E. Duggan, of Edmonton. Toast to the bride was proposed by H. G. Thunell, of Viking.

As her going away ensemble, the bride donned a green and brown striped boucle suit, topped by a brown fur coat. Her feather hat and other accessories were green, and yellow and bronze mums comprised her corsage.

Extra Rod Adds Space to Closet

"Where to find an extra inch of space that will ease the closet crush and save clothes from that peril?" If that's the question that is burning on your lips, here's the answer.

Put a double-decker rod in your closet and utilize the dead space which is usually available above the existing rod.

An extra rod in your closet will ease the strain on your temper, keep clothes better spaced and better aired, and looking more presentable.

Wedging duds tightly together on a closet rod cuts off the circulation of air needed to free fabrics of wrinkles and to release the nap of winter woolens.

To free clothes from a closet crush, simply utilize the dead space above the rod on which your duds now hang. Use the No. 2 rod that you suspend from wall to wall of your closet for hanging shorter garments.

Reserve space on the lower rod for longer garments—all dressy evening gowns and full-length coats.

Here's still another useful idea for relieving a closet crush: Remove every space-grabbing item of clothing which you don't wear or wear very infrequently.

Park these items away in boxes or trunks. If you have no other spot in which to store boxes, put your unused duds in garment containers especially designed for storage under beds.

Perfume Elegance Can Be Long-Lasting And Glamorizing

Wear your finest perfume as you would an ermine cape or a sable stole. But apply it so as to retain its elegance as a long-lasting accessory.

You won't be able to preserve a fragrance very long, if you dash it on hands, skin or hair or lingerie which have to be washed often.

But if perfume is applied to outer clothing at areas where you run no risk of spoiling fabric, the fragrance will linger until garments need to be dry-cleaned.

Usually the safest place to apply perfume to fabrics is on the side seams, inner waistbands, shoulder pads or pocket linings.

A way to avoid the direct perfuming of fabrics and still reap the benefits of more lastingness from a fragrance is to use scented pellets.

To make these, a small wad of cotton is perfumed-soaked and tied up in a tiny square of soft fabric which may be tucked inside of a bra, a girdle top or the lining of a handbag.

If you want your perfume to hold its own with winter furs see that its fragrance is compatible with furs. Perfumes with an animal base are usually a good choice for wear with furs.

Lady Curlers Ready With Brooms For Annual 'Spiel

Into the curling garb, girls... it's away to the annual bonspiel for us.

The twenty-second annual bonspiel of the Northern Alberta Women's Curling Association will take place from Jan. 17 to Jan. 21.

Games will be played on artificial ice this year to avoid inconveniences caused by mild weather. Last year, curlers were practically swimming through their games.

All bonspiel games will be played at the Edmonton and the Granite Curling rinks.

As in former years, there will be six competitions: The T. Eaton Company (Grand Challenge Event); The Hudson's Bay Company, Army and Navy and Sheppard Events(open to all rinks enlered); the H. H. Cooper Event (Visitors' Competition) and the Canadian Chewing Gum, Dentyne Event (city competition) with four sets of prizes in each.

Monthly Check On Figure Size Beauty Scheme

As important as a weekly check-up of weight is a monthly check-up of measurements. Sometimes figure changes which won't be noted on scales will show up when measurements are taken. This is especially apt to be the case if the figure is mature. With the idea of holding an unwanted expansion, keep a record of waist, hip, bust, thighs and upper arm measurements. If muscles of the midriff, for example, begin to lose their tone and sag, waistline measurements may increase. Any tendency which upper arms have to fill out can be detected by a tape measure.

Just as fat we weekly weighing-in on a scale will signal the need to lose a pound or two, so the monthly measurements are apt to prod you into corrective exercise if you see signs of an expanding waist, hipline or upper arm. And just as it is easier to lose two pounds than 10, so is it easier to exercise off a half inch than three inches from a figure which you want to keep trim.

Young mothers of Alberta Avenue Community membership at 7.30 in the Community Hall. Representative of the Recreation Board will outline organization of a community play school.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly a bad winter cough can be relieved, when you try this well known recipe. It is universally used throughout Canada because it gives such prompt, rellfing results. It's no trouble at all to mix, and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 ounce bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or strained honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes four times as much cough medicine for your money. Never spoils and tastes fine.

Quickly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm, helps to clear the air passages, and soothes the irritated membranes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

Scarlet Poinsettias For Wedding Background

RYLEY, Jan. 5.—Pretty wedding took place recently in Calvin United Church here when Myrtle Alice Anderson became the bride of Harry Krasowski, son of Mrs. A. Krasowski, of Edmonton and the late Mr. Krasowski.

Rev. H. B. Ricker performed the ceremony before an altar with holiday decorations, red poinsettias, and tall red tapers. Pews were marked with colonial bouquets of sweet peas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of ivory satin, styled with tiers of lace insets in the skirt. The bodice was fashioned with a V neckline of lace, and lily-point sleeves. Train-length wedding veil was held in place with a sequin and satin bandeau, and she wore a double strand of pearls and matching earrings, the gift of the groom. Deep red roses comprised her bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Helen Runkie, of Vancouver, wore an off-the-shoulder gown of turquoise taffeta, with full net skirt and matching chapel veil and mittens. She carried a nosegay of pink mums and carnations.

Birdesmaids were Miss Sophie Krasowski, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss June Ilelley. Miss Krasowski chose a bouffant gown of maize taffeta, with a bustle back. Her chapel veil and mittens were in matching maize and her ensemble was complemented by a nosegay of yellow carnations and mums.

Miss Helley's gown was of pale blue brocaded nylon, styled with peplum and bustle skirt. Her flowers were pink mums and carnations.

Attending the birdegroom were Evarr Thygesson, Stanley Solberg, and Nick Kordiuk. Ushers were Lester Keegan and James Fish.

Wedding music was played by Bernice Magneson. During the signing of the register Bob Ireland sang "Because."

United Church Club Room was the scene of a reception following the ceremony, and was decorated with green and white streamers for the occasion. Three-tiered wedding cake was embedded in tulle and adorned with pink flowers and pink and white candles.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Krasowski assisted the bridal couple in receiving. The bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of brown flowered crepe, with matching accessories and shoulder bouquets of American Beauty roses.

Mother of the bridegroom wore a grey crepe afternoon dress, which featured front draping. Her hat was black, and deep red roses comprised her corsage.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to Calgary and Banff, the bride donned a grey pin stripe suit with blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Krasowski will reside in Ryley.

White Nylon Brocade Chosen by Pretty Bride

White chrysanthemums mingled with holly formed a seasonal background in the rectory of St. Joseph's Cathedral for the Christmas wedding of Ruth Clare Brault and John Russell Wiber.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Brault, of Tawatinaw, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wiber, of Edmonton.

Double ring ceremony was performed by Monsignor W. H. Carleton, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Sam Brault.

White nylon brocade fashioned the bride's gown, which was styled with a semi-train, net yoke, and lily point sleeves. A small Dutch cap caught her finger tip veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink rosebuds comprised her corsage.

Attending their sister were Miss Laurette Brault and Miss Theresa Brault. They wore princess styled gowns of blue and pink rayon bengaline, with matching Dutch bonnets. Each carried a nosegay of pink and blue carnations, centred with rosebuds.

George Merelis was best man, and the bride's brother, Harold Wiber, ushered the guests.

Reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, where the rooms were decorated with holly and white carnations.

To receive the guests, Mrs. Brault chose a black tulip crepe dress, with grey accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Wiber, who also received, was gowned in turquoise crepe with matching hat. White carnations and pink rosebuds comprised her corsage.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. C. Reeles and Mrs. A. Brault.

Bridal toast was proposed by Mr. Merelis.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to the south of the province, the bride changed to a raspberry gabardine suit, topped by a grey wool coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiber will make their home in Edmonton.

YALE "STUDENTS' SPECIAL"—This chartered airliner cracked up and exploded on takeoff from Boeing Field, Seattle, shortly before midnight Sunday. Fourteen of 30 persons aboard are known to have lost their lives and it is feared the death toll might mount higher due to the serious injury of many survivors.

Big Battle Is Raging Around Egyptian Town

CAIRO, Jan. 5.—(BUP)—The biggest battle of the Palestine war was reported raging today in the soft desert-sands around the Egyptian frontier town of Rafa, with the U.S. involved diplomatically.

Egyptian sources said the Jews, thrown back last week in attempts to capture Rafa because their tanks and armored cars bogged down in the sand, were hitting the town again with the biggest forces they have ever used.

Egyptian forces are holding their ground, these reports said. Rafa is about one mile inside Egyptian territory but the reports did not make clear whether the fighting had passed onto Egyptian soil or if the battle still was being fought in Palestine.

ON HIGHWAY

Rafa is on the main coastal highway between Egypt and Palestine. Large forces of Egyptians hold Gaza, 20 miles north, and the highway between the two towns. Official reports indicatd the Jewish attack was made out of the desert to the east.

territory but the reports did not in Tel Aviv dispatches to have become involved diplomatically in the fighting by warning the Israeli government against any further military invasion of Egypt.

WITHHOLD LOAN

These reports said James G. McDonald, head of the American mission to Israeli, told the Israeli government that the U.S. would withhold full recognition of Israel and deny a $100,000,000 loan if Israeli troops invaded Egypt.

Britian has a treaty of alliance with Egypt that would force Britain to come Egypt's assistance if Israeli troops invaded the Arab country. At the same time, Britain and the U.S. are trying to work out a common approach to the Palestine problem.

REGINA, Jan. 5.—(CP)—The stork created a photo finish in Regina's New Year baby derby this year—and things became more complicated when the hospital clock was found to be four minutes slow.

The newest-born of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. M. Gauthier arrived at 12:40 a.m., Jan. 1, and appeared to have a two-minute edge on young Richard Douglas Dacey, born to Mrs. Harvey Dacey.

The discovery one clock was slow created more confusion. The affair's been settled by crowning both babies winners. Regina merchants will award double prizes.

2 Nabbed On Cabbie's Tip

VANCOUVER, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Fast police action following a cab-driver's tip-off last night resulted in the recapturing of two of three women who escaped from the Oakalla Prison Farm in nearby Burnaby municipality at supper time.

The two, Dorothy Chaney, 26-year-old Negro and Maureen McKenna, 21, narcotic addict, were apprehended beneath Cambie Bridge about two hours after their escape.

Still sought is Margaret McNeil, 20, who made her second break from the institution within a month.

Strikes Hit South, Central Italy

ROME, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Strikes and labor demonstrations hit south and central Italy yesterday. Unemployment and threats of dismissal were main causes. The Communist newspaper Unita said the unrest centred in Puglia. A general strike gripped Minervino Murge for the seventh day. Riots broke out there Monday.

Executive Dies

MONTREAL, Jan. 5—(CP)—Gurden G. (Spax) Slater, 67, general sales manager of the car division of Canadian Car and Foundry Co., Ltd., and prominent in railway life in the United States and Canada, died here yesterday.

German Bi-Zonal Pact Extended

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The United States and Britain yesterday agreed to extend for three months the present agreement merging their zones in Germany.

This step was taken as a temporary measure pending the writing of a new agreement which would include the French zone of western Germany.

The old agreement was due to expire Dec. 17, after being in effect one year.

BLAST INSIDE BODY IS FATAL

BIRMINGHAM, England, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The coroner decided yesterday that John P. Gibbons, 63, was killed by an explosion inside his body during an operation.

Coroner W. H. Davison said anaesthetic gas in the cavity left by removal of the lung was touched off by an electric needle in the hands of the surgeon. The blast which followed killed the patient.

He returned a verdict of "death by misadventure."

Indonesia War Formally Ends

BATAVIA, Java, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The formal phase of The Netherlands military campaign to regain control of the republic of Indonesia ended today.

Lt.-Gen. Simon Spoor, commander of Dutch forces in Indonesia, ordered a cease-fire on Sumatra at noon today (9 p.m., Tuesday, Edmonton time).

He told his troops in an order of the day that their task hereafter would "be confined to action against roaming groups and gangs or individuals who try to cause disturbances."

The same terms were used in Spoor's order announcing that formal hostilities on Java had ended at midnight New Year's Eve.

The Netherlands had informed the United Nations Security Council Dec. 29 that it would stop fighting in Java on New Year's Eve and in Sumatra two or three days later.

Several delegates at that time said the Dutch statement represented defiance of the council's order for an immediate cease-fire in Indonesia.

Hudson's Bay Co. Provides 2 U.K. Scholarships

WINNIPEG, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Hudson's Bay Company officials announced yesterday that applications may now be made for two scholarships for study in the United Kingdom.

The scholarships, tenable for one year, are for post-graduate study in advanced business administration, including such subjects as merchandising, personnel administration and labor relations.

Creation of the scholarships was announced in 1945 on the occasion of the company's 275th anniversary. They were placed in competition for the first time in 1947.

Each year two bursaries are awarded for Canadians to study in the United Kingdom and two awards also are for students in the United Kingdom to study in Canada.

Three Are Jailed For Turkey Theft Over Year Ago

MEDICINE HAT, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Three men were sentenced to jail terms of three months each when they appeared in city police court yesterday in connection with theft of 74 dressed turkeys more than one year ago.

John Evangelos, proprietor of a Medicine Hat cafe, was sentenced to the jail term after pleading guilty to a charge of retaining stolen property. James McGarry, 24, and Howard Waters, 23, each were sentenced to three-month jail terms after admitting theft of the turkeys in December, 1947.

Court was told that Evangelos bought turkeys from the other two men for $109, less than one-third their value.

Monday a similar charge against Evangelos was dismissed due to a legal technicality but a new charge was laid early yesterday.

Bad Weather Delays Air Crash Probe

WINNIPEG, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Weather which made flying impossible today was holding up an investigation into the explosion in mid-air of an Anson aircraft at Island Lake, Man., 300 miles northeast of Winnipeg, in which two men lost their lives.

The victims were Vic Yanskinsky, 34, Lac Du Bonnet pilot employed by Eco Exploration Company of Winnipeg, and brother Ulderic Petit, 32, of the Franciscan Fathers Rectory at Lac Du Bonnet and a native of Granby, Que.

A party of four which left Lac Du Bonnet yesterday was grounded today at Island Lake by bad weather. In the group, which is to conduct a preliminary investigation are Cpl. A. Watkins, of the Lac Du Bonnet detachment of the RCMP; Dr. I. W. Smeath; coroner for Lac Du Bonnet; a transport department official and Mr. G. Smerchanski manager of the Eco Company.

BRING IN BODIES

It is expected the party will take off tomorrow to return the bodies of the victims to Lac Du Bonnet.

F. W. Bone, district inspector of air regulations in Winnipeg said an official investigation by that branch will begin as soon as weather permits. Mr. Bone said Inspector R. L. Boddie and A. H. Walker were standing by here. A plane from Lac du Bonnet will come to Winnipeg to fly them to the scene as soon as the weather clears, perhaps tomorrow.

PLEASURE PASSENGER

Brother Ulderic had been a "pleasure passenger" aboard the aircraft which exploded, then burned after the wreckage plunged to the ground. The plane had been assigned to transport stores to Island Lake and then to Lingman Lake, Ont. Island Lake is near the Manitoba-Ontario border.

The plane was reported to have crashed at a spot near a Hudson's Bay store, where the manager saw it fall. Mr. Smerchanski said it had carried extra gasoline and that any mid-air explosion would have been "pretty bad."

Seven Killed In U.S. Crash

COLFAX, Calif., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Seven men were killed and another was believed missing in the crash of a United States Air Force C-47 transport with 10 miles southeast of here last night.

Coroner Frances E. West, who returned here early today after viewing the wreckage with a group of air force officers, said seven bodies were counted in the wreckage. They were not removed because the wreckage was still too hot from flames which swept the plane.

West said the air force investigators from McClellan field told her an eighth man was believed aboard but they could see only seven bodies.

The plane was flying from Hill Field, Ogden, Utah, to McClellan Field, Sacramento, Calif., when it crashed in this northern California foothill area.

West said witnesses fairly well established that the plane caught fire and then exploded while flying at about 1,000 feet.

Lie Predicts End Of Palestine War

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 5.—(CP)—Trygve Lie, United Nations secretary-general, predicted today that the war in Palestine will end this year.

Lie said at his first weekly press conference since returning from Europe that he had no direct evidence but "considering all that has happened, I believe there will be peace in Palestine in 1949."

Owners Protest City Proposal

Owners of warehouses on 102 avenue, between 103 and 104 streets have intimated to city commissioners that costs of remodeling their buildings to provide off-street loading are prohibitive.

Not only are the construction costs out of economic range, but depreciation of the structures through the proposed changes also are extremely high, spokesman for the owners submitted.

These submissions were made by Bruce Smith, K.C., to city commissioners today.

REMOVE WALKS

It was suggested that consideration be given to removal of the sidewalk in the centre of the street as a means of overcoming the city's proposal that warehouses in the district provide off-street loading by 1950.

THROUGH STREET

The off-street loading proposal followed decision by city commissioners to declare 102 avenue a traffic street and had designated it as the northern leg of a trolley bus belt line to be put into operation when the conversion of the High Level bridge to trolley bus operation was completed.

Oil Output Up Sharply

Federal resources minister James A. MacKinnon said here today that development of mineral and oil resources in western Canada last year contributed greatly to the general prosperity throughout Canada.

MacKinnon released a statement revealing that Alberta's oil production in the first 10 months of 1948, including natural gasoline, was 8,663,077 barrels as compared with 5,551,276 in 1947.

Production at the new Leduc field increased almost twenty-fold over 1947, he said, while the Lloydminster field in Alberta and Saskatchewan territory turned out twice as much oil last year.

At the end of November there were 151 wells in operation at Leduc, 281 at Turner Valley, 192 at Lloydminster and 104 in other fields in Alberta, he added.

MacKinnon said recent discoveries such as Leduc and Redwater near Edmonton stimulated the search for new occurences. However, he added that the lack of transportation facilities and the existence of American contracts necessitated the restriction of oil output.

HONG KONG, Jan. 5. — (AP) — The British cruiser Sussex sailed yesterday for Portsmouth where she will be decommissioned. The Sussex was escorted to the harbor entrance by her sleek new replacement, HMS Belfast.

Toronto's Tram Traffic Is Record

TORONTO, Jan. 5. — (CP) — In spite of all-time high—in 1948—the municipally-owned commission announced today. Passenger traffic increased by more than 3,500,000 passengers from last year.

Aussies To Expand Defence Research

CANBERRA, Jan. 5.—(AP) — Australia is preparing to extend her scientific research for defence. New projects, in addition to rocket range and guided missiles research, are being undertaken, Defence Minister John Dedman told a press conference yesterday.

Queen Mary Sails After Long Delay

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Jan. 5.—(CP)—The 81,000-ton Cunard liner Queen Mary sailed today for New York after four days' delay due to grounding near Cherbourg on Saturday.

Lloyd's surveyors earlier granted a certificate of seaworthiness after a final inspection of temporary repairs.

Dispute Continues On Home Oil Stock

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Home Oil Co., Ltd., and Toronto Stock Exchange today remained in disagreement, the Company claiming it is acting in the best interests of its shareholders and the Exchange taking the opposite view.

Meantime trading in Home's shares is suspended in Toronto, starting yesterday, but continues for the time being at least in Montreal, Vancouver and Calgary.

The chief issue is the company's plan to give shareholders the opportunity to buy extra shares at $9 per share but without giving them the privilege of selling this right to someone else if they don't wish to buy themselves.

BY-LAW PROVISION

Exchange by-laws provide in such instances for selling the "rights to buy" and ordinarily these are bought and sold like a stock issue itself.

The Vancouver Stock Exchange, in an announcement which may possibly indicate attempts at a settlement of the point in dispute, said its managing committee had decided "that no action will be taken by the Exchange pending further clarification of the issue which now is being discussed with the Home Oil directors."

MAJOR PRODUCER

Home is a major Canadian producer with wells in the Turner Valley, Leduc and Redwater fields of Alberta. The proposed new shares are expected to amount to 240,000, thus realizing $2,160,000 for the company's various programs and bringing the total issued to 2,000,000 shares.

15 Months Given For Shopbreaking At Seven Places

Police investigation of a series of shopbreakings in Edmonton during the past two months resulted in the conviction in police court this morning of a 19-year-old youth, William Skulsky.

Skulsky, a Vernon, B.C., youth who has been working in Edmonton, was sentenced to 15 months' imprisonment with hard labor.

He pleaded guilty to seven charges of shopbreaking, all committed between Nov. 23 and Dec. 23.

Loot included about $35 in cash, cigarettes, a typewriter and a quantity of clothing. Restitution of goods and money was made, court was told.

Grippe Epidemic

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The public health ministry said today a wave of grippe in France has reached "epidemic" proportions. No deaths have been reported, but one person in five in Paris was said to be sick. In Metz there were 20,000 sick out of 80,000 population.

THIEF IS SET FOR COLD SNAP

City police are on the lookout for a well and warmly dressed thief.

Three persons, residents of the 96 street and 103 avenue area, reported thefts from their clotheslines overnight. Loot included a suit of long underwear from one clothesline, five men's shirts from another, and two shirts from the third.

Six Burned In U.S. Fire

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Six persons were burned to death early today in a flash fire that raged through a two-storey frame home near this eastern Pennsylvania town.

Six other persons escaped. Among them was a two-year-old child who was tossed from a second floor window. Another was a widow whose legs had been amputated above the knees.

Investigators said the fast-spreading blaze apparently started when a kerosene stove upset on a back porch of the home, crowded because one family had permitted an evicted family to move in with them.

Two Escaped Youths Are Recaptured

GUELPH, Ont., Jan. 5.—(CP)—Two youths, one 16 and the other 15, who escaped early yesterday from the reformatory here, were recaptured by a posse three miles fro mthe institution after less than two hours' freedom.

1,000 Flee Floods

ROME, Jan. 5. — (AP) — Floods forced more than 1,000 Italians to move out of the valleys north of Florence today. More than 30 hours of steady rain in addition to an unseasonal thaw of mountain snow sent rivers over their banks in a wide area from Bologna to Venice.

MELBOURNE, Australia, — (CP) — The longest waiting list in Australia is for membership in the Melbourne Cricket Club. With a full membership capacity of 6,200, the person in five in Paris was said to be sick. In Metz there were 20,000 sick out of 80,000 population.

SCIENTIFIC MOVE MAY SAVE OIL RESERVES

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(CP)—The New York Times said today in a dispatch from Memphis, Tenn., that the United States "may be on the threshold of a major development in the use of alcohol as an engine fuel."

The dispatch, quoting Dr. C. E. Hilbert, a United States government research chief, said the development "would help soak up grain and other farm surpluses and extend dwindling oil reserves."

The principle is that alcohol injected into an engine fed with low-grade gasoline steps up the fuel to high-grade gasoline.

Double Trouble For Imperial

By Harlo Jones

Imperial Oil Limited is reported having difficulty with two of their Leduc wells, both of which are at depths very near the production level. The two wells are Imperial Leduc 121 and 133, the former of which has had packer trouble and the latter is said to have lost circulation.

At 121, however, the situation isn't as bad as some reports seem to make out. During a drillstem test, performed at a depth of 5,040 feet with the packer at 4,995, a gas blow of about 139,000 cubic feet was noted. When pipe was pulled the packer stuck in the hole.

Early reports then went on to say the well "blew" 23 stands, about 1,400 feet, of drill pipe out of the hole. In actual fact, the gas pushed a stand of about 14,000 feet of oil out of the pipe which had become stuck.

At Imperial 133, crews are mixing sawdust and mud to attempt to restore circulation which was lost at a depth of 5,347 feet. It was belived the hole has encountered either an exceptionally porous zone or an underground cavity which is robbing them of their drilling fluid. No trouble is expected, however, in getting it "filled in" after which ordinary operations will be resumed.

One oil man said cavities are sometimes encountered into which "you could put the Macdonald Hotel."

An announcement from the Gulf and British Dominion companies has disclosed their attempt at Radway, a few miles northeast of the Redwater field, will be abandoned. The well went to a depth of 3,833 feet without encountering the D3.

Good safety record of the Alberta oil industry is to result in reduced costs of workmen's compensation for operating oil companies. The saving is expected to acount to about $150,000 per year.

The board has reduced the compensation levy against operators from 4.25 per cent to 3.75 per cent, covering some 4,500 employes.

EXTRA RATION TAILS, EARS

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Austrian Press Agency said today a sow in Carinthia gave birth to five pigs. Two, it said, had two tails; another had two tails and four ears; another had three tails and three ears, and the fifth had five legs.

Chicago Grain Gains Slightly

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The grain market today took President Truman's State-of-the-Union speech including a request for authority to control speculation on commodity exchanges, without any undue excitement.

A selling flurry developed during the speech with soybeans getting the brunt of the liquidation. Prices dropped about three cents in beans. Other commodities were influenced by the weakness, giving up nearly all their early gains extending to around a cent in wheat and corn.

But the selling flurry didn't last long. Renewed buying came into the pits. Led by deferred deliveries of both wheat and corn most cereals again pushed ahead of Tuesday's close. Soybeans lagged on the rally.

Wheat was unchanged to ¾ higher, May $2.27 ⅛, corn was ⅝ 1¾ higher, May $1.49-⅝ oats were ⅛-½ higher, May 78 ½-⅝, rye was ¼lower, May $1.72, and soybeans were ¼-¾ higher, March $2.61¼-$2.61.

Cash wheat: none. Corn: No. 4 mixed 1.42*; barley nominal; malting 1.02-20.

Grain close:

Wheat-May 2.27⅛, July 2.11 ½-¼, Sep. 2.11¼. Dec. 2.13¼.

Corn-May 1.49 ¼-⅝, July 1.47 ⅝-½, Sep. 1.42¾, Dec. 1.35 ⅞-36.

Oats-May 78 ½-⅝, July 73⅝, Sep. 70¾.

Rye-May 1.72.

Soybeans—March 2.61¼-61, May 2.58¾-59, July 2.56-56¼.

Industrials Show Small Advances

Base Metals, Oils Strengthen; Selling Pressure Hits Golds

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Prices moved irregularly in dull trading on Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials edged quietly ahead into slightly firmer ground and base metals firmed in increasing activity. Golds weakened from Tuesday's strong gains under mild selling pressure and western oils moved quietly ahead. Volume was about 800,000 shares.

Papers and steels brightened in the industrials on fractional gains and utilities were mixed. Liquors weakened on losses ranging to more than a point and a few foods were easier. Canada Cement led a strong construction list to higher ground with a new high at 34¼.

Golds moved under pressure of mild profit-taking following Tuesday's strong advance that pulled the list up to early September levels. Changes were narrow in producing juniors and slightly on a downward trend.

Base metals edged ahead late in the session for some moderate gains. Smelters, Noranda and International Nickel were ahead fractions while Labrador and Falconbridge showed penny losses.

Western oils moved sluggishly as trading in Home Oil remained suspended by the exchange pending clarification of the company's offer to shareholders.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE BRINGS SHORT RALLY

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(A)—The President's "State of the Union" message touched off a mild and short-lived rally in the stock market today.

Gains ranged from fractions to a little more than a point for issues affected, mostly in the steel, rail and automobile divisions.

Turnover picked up a little as the president delivered his message, but activity was still nothing to get excited about.

Wall Street generally rated the outline of administration policy as better than expected from a business viewpoint.

Actual presentation of the president's views, according to brokerage quarters, removed one of the market's most nagging uncertainties. The general level of prices had gradually sagged near the 1948-49 low as today approached.

Possibly the most cheering facet to the policy outline was an omission—no mention was made of an excess profits tax although higher corporation taxes were recommended to Congress.

Canadian issues were irregular. Canadian Pacific added ¼. Dome Mines and McIntyre each were down ¼. On the curb Lake Shore eased ⅛ and Giant Yellowknife gained ⅛.

OILS MAKE RECOVERY IN CALGARY TRADING

CALGARY, Jan. 5.—Western oils regained their stride after a tendency to weaken during mid-session on Calgary exchange today. Volume was 152,095, with Leduc Calmar accounting for 18,400 shares at 20 cents. Mercury touched 40 in sales of 10,750.

London Stocks

LONDON, Jan. 5—(Reuters)—Those who had been expecting the new account in the stock exchange to bring an increase in trading were disappointed today. Quiet conditions prevailed with most sections showing small improvements.

London markets await a lead whether bearish or bullish and some hesitancy was discernable today.

Oils made a good start with small demand for recent favorites.

Trading in industrials was individual rather than general.

Hopes of peace in the Chinese situation brought in buyers of the Chinese bonds and rises of up to two points were recorded.

Many of the Kaffir dividend-payers were quoted ex-dividend today. The market was irregular with the payers inclined easier and a selective firmness in the developers.

Scientific Progress Brings New Problems

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Science has shown us how to produce two blades of grass where only one grew before, says the current monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada, but nationalism, flying in the face of man's increasing interdependence, prevents the best use being made of the extra blade.

The letter is devoted to a review of "science in our lives." Of science and industry:

"Science is the foundation of our wealth, but the rise of new businesses on that foundation creates new problems. On the one hand there is increasing need for an understanding of industry by the community, and on the other hand the need on industry's part to develop its understanding of the community and of employes.

"The revolutionary advances of science and technology in the last few years have resulted in increasing production with less labor. The fact that an industrial worker in Canada is paid several times as much in real wages as his predecessor received for much longer hours of work a generation or two ago is a condition which rests upon scientific discoveries.

"Science has transplanted civilization to wildernesses, as in northern Quebec and Ontario, with resulting changes in people's way of living.

"Canada's rise from scientific youth to maturity is one of the most significant things about her development."

Literary Guild

We Recommend:

This Month's Selection of the Literary Guild

This is the story of a town, of a home, of a girl. It is the story of Marblehead from its earliest settlement to the present, of a family who settled and stayed there, and of a girl whose dramatic life contained the history of both.
